PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—Despite reports that his resignation as director of public safety will be requested by Mayor Kendrick unless he discontinued the re-districting of police stations, Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler issued orders today for the biggest police shakeup since he assumed the office last June. More than 300 patrolmen and twenty street sergeants, attached to central districts, whom the director declared had "double-crossed" their lieutenants, will be transferred to outlying sections.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Organization of two committees which will play a vital part in the coming presidential campaign in engaging the attention of those who are directing the La Follette-Wheeler candidacies. One committee, to be composed of 11 members, will have general charge of the campaign, while the other will handle financial matters. The campaign committee will have Representative Nelson of Wisconsin as chairman with headquarters in Chicago, where he now is directing campaign activities. Five members will be selected by Senators La Follette and Wheeler and the others will represent the conference for progressive political action, which endorsed the candidacies of both. The finance committee will be made up of two sections—one representing La Follette and Wheeler, the other the conference. Indications are that Atty. Gen. Ekers

The Middlesex County commissioners met at the Gorham street courthouse today to open bids on proposals to do decorating at the training school at North Chelmsford and at the courthouse. The Lowell Wall Paper Co. on bids of $1495.65 for the school job and $1940.20 for the courthouse, was awarded both contracts. Other bids received were the following: James L. Ryan, Lowell, school, $2254; Courthouse, $1582; E. C. Pearson & Co., Lowell, school, $2566; courthouse, $1782; Martin Feeley, Cambridge, school, $2100; courthouse, $1135. There were no hearings scheduled and the meeting adjourned with the awarding of the contracts.

SACO-LOWELL SHOPS
RESUME OPERATIONS

Saco-Lowell shops corporation this morning reopened both its Lowell and Biddeford, Me., plants for production, after a two weeks' shutdown. Agent B. B. Fenster informed The Sun that operating conditions would continue for the present under practically the same regulations governing both employment and production, as was the rule just preceding the annual summer vacation closing. The Biddeford plant of the Saco-Lowell shops, which was closed during the same period of two weeks, resumed operations this morning on the part of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation, or any of its agents.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR
DEATH OF LINEMAN

In an inquest report submitted to the clerk of court by Judge Pickman today, the Lowell Electric Light Corporation is absolved of all blame in connection with the death of J. Joseph Finnegan, who was electrocuted while at work on one of the company's poles at Marginal street and Glidden avenue on the morning of June 27. The report finds that "death was not due to criminal negligence on the part of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation, or any of its agents."

Defense Springs Surprise in Asking to Change Former Plea of Innocence

Advising New Plea Permits
"Extreme Penalty," Judge
Permits it Entered

CHICAGO, July 21.—Defense counsel at the opening of the trial today of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks, moved to withdraw the plea of not guilty, and substitute a plea of guilty.

A formal motion by the defense to quash the indictments was expected, merely for the purpose of paying the way for an appeal.

The state was prepared to oppose vigorously any attempt by the defense to introduce evidence purporting to implicate Leopold and Loeb in the unsolved murder of Freeman L. Tracy, student at the same university in which the prisoners were enrolled, or the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxicab driver who once stated he believed Leopold and Loeb to have been his assailants.

After advising the defense counsel that the plea of guilty made possible the "extreme penalty" of which the defense attorney signified cognizance, Chief Justice John R. Caverly allowed the plea to be entered. The defense move was a surprise to the state counsel, who anticipated a motion for continuance.

The court ruled that the state should be permitted, regardless of the plea of guilty by the defense, to present evidence designed to prove the mental responsibility of the two youths.

Hearings on the point were set for Wednesday morning. In presenting the defense motion, Attorney Clarence Darrow informed the court that the only move of defense would be to present evidence tending to demonstrate the degree of responsibility and also evidence of an "irresponsibility and insanity" in the two defendants.

"Having presented this evidence," Darrow said, "we will throw ourselves on the mercy of the court."

At another point Mr. Darrow said: "The defense fully realizes that the defendants should be permanently isolated from society."

First maneuvers in the legal skirmishes which are destined to bring together one of the formidable arrays of legal talent and psychopathic specialists in legal history, were scheduled for today.

With the trial date already set for August 4, and the court proceeding there would be no additional delay, the speculation centered about the possibility of a defense move for a sixty day postponement.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, was prepared to assume personal direction of the case for the state. He would attend every session of the trial, he announced. He will be assisted by three of his most effective criminal prosecutors.

BLOCK AND FALL
NEEDED TO HANDLE
UNUSUAL FUNERAL

ANSONIA, Conn., July 21.—Mrs. Catherine Bristol, whose funeral was held here yesterday, weighed in excess of 600 pounds and was buried in a casket weighing 430 pounds, the largest ever used in the state, according to the undertaker who supervised the burial. The woman's death occurred in the third story and a block and fall was used in lowering the casket from the room.

Ten men acting as pall bearers were obliged to rest twice during the short journey to the grave. Mrs. Bristol's death, physicians say, was caused by her increasing weight.

WATER TOO COLD
The temporary showers, arranged so as to be attached to hydrants, which were purchased for use on the North common, have not been put into operation yet. The reason, according to Supt. Koran of the park department, is that the hydrant water is too cold for bath purposes. To attach the baths to the hydrants at the North common now, he said, would be dangerous for the temperature of the water is altogether too low and would do the children more harm than good.

LIQUOR AND VICE SQUAD
$13,910 Collected in Fines in Local Court as Result of Squad Activities

350 Warrants and 140 Arrests in Liquor Cases During First Six Months of Year

For the first six months of the year ending July 1, the activities of Capt. George B. Palmer's liquor and vice squad have resulted in the collection of $13,910 in fines in the local district court. During the half-year period, 350 search warrants were issued to members of the squad. There were 107 seizures, including 1473 gallons of beer and 553 gallons of liquor.

A total of 140 defendants appeared.

PROBABLE CAUSE FOUND IN LIQUOR CASE

Probable cause was found against Charles Bryant for illegal possession of liquor and against Jerry Titterton for illegal sale and possession by United States Commissioner R. B. Walsh this forenoon at a sitting of his court. They were ordered held for the federal district court under $500 bonds.

William J. O'Connell, arrested on a charge of illegal possession along with Bryant and Titterton, was discharged.

Testimony given by Federal Agents John A. MacKenzie and Lavaca of Springfield was to the effect that Titterton sold a drink of gin, ginger ale and ice to MacKenzie at a near-by saloon at 276 Middlesex street on June 12.

On June 30 both agents testified they were raiding in a raiding party at the same place and they produced bottles of liquid secured at that time. One of the bottles contained a liquid which showed by test an alcoholic content of 6.34 per cent. MacKenzie testified, although the agent said he believed the liquid had been scooped out of a sink in back of the bar, Lavaca testified to finding two ounces of what tasted and smelled like alcohol in a big tin container.

Atty. Edward J. Tierney represented Titterton, O'Connell and Bryant and particularly asked for O'Connell's discharge on the grounds that he did not work at 276 Middlesex street and therefore could not properly be charged with illegal possession. Commissioner Walsh agreed.

STAGE ALL SET FOR
CHILDREN'S OUTING

Rotarians today completed arrangements for tomorrow's monster outing, when more than 700 eagerly anticipated orphan boys and girls of Lowell will be guests of big-hearted clubmen at an all-day picnic at North Luther grounds in Tyngsboro. It will be the largest outing of its kind ever conducted by the Rotary club. If the weather is bad, the outing will be held on the following day.

The arrangements for transporting the children to and from the city were decided upon this morning, when Rotarian committees on various entertainment programs, rallied at the Dutton street quarters of the Boys' club for final discussions.

It was decided that owing to the large increase in the number of children this year it will be necessary to limit this outing to Rotarians and their families. Rotarians will wear badges. A service car will follow the parade, and if any motor vehicle needs attention, it will be readily given. Major Walter R. Jones will have charge of the "unloading" at the picnic grounds.

There are separate committees galore handling transportation from each of the following institutions: Ayer home, Pawtucket street; French-American orphanage, Pawtucket street; St. Peter's orphanage, Stevens street; Children's home, back Central street, and Day Nursery, 57 First street.

The start will be made from the Ayer home at 10:30 a. m., and there will be a parade through the principal streets of the city: down Merrimack, Central, Middlesex, Thorndike, Dutton to Merrimack, where the big start will be made for Tyngsboro.

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press) With ceremonies elaborated by many centuries of usage, nearly 3000 American and Canadian lawyers today were welcomed to England in ancient Westminster Hall.

Striking the keynote of the visiting delegates' pleasure over the cordiality of their welcome, Senator Hughes of the United States pointed out that he and his fellow lawyers of the United States came to England rejoicing in the unity which had become a fixed habit of two peoples intent upon co-operation in the interest of peace.

On the platform stood wigged and robed rows of king's counsel and delegations of Canadian and American lawyers.

Autopsy Reveals Severe

TEHERAN, Persia, July 20 (by the Associated Press).—Developments in the investigation into the killing of Robert Imbrie, American vice consul, held to indicate that parts at least of the Persian government's protective forces failed in their duty in defending his life when he and Melvin Seymour, another American, were attacked by a fanatic mob last Friday.

The assault occurred in a crowded thoroughfare and although it is declared that numbers of armed police and soldiers were present, it does not appear that a shot was fired in defense of the victims. It is even alleged that soldiers formed a part of the mob. The autopsy on the body of Mr. Imbrie confirmed the report that there was a fatal cut on his head and that he was acquainted with the equipment of the defensive forces say that only the military police carry sabres.

The majlis, the Persian parliament, in open session, expressed its sorrow and profound horror at the crime and urged the government to pursue the investigation relentlessly. Many arrests have been made among civilians.

The station will be of cement construction, one story in height, and the estimated cost of erection is $10,000. Application for the permit was filed by Robinson & Robinson, local contractors.

AMERICA BOASTS CRACK AVIATORS, BUT FAR BEHIND WITH AIR FORCES

THE ZR-3, PICTURED ABOVE, AND THE SHENANDOAH, BOTH U. S. NAVAL AIRSHIPS, ARE CONSIDERED THE WORLD'S FINEST IN THEIR CLASS.

REAR-ADMIRAL WILLIAM A. MOFFETT, CHIEF OF THE NAVAL BUREAU OF AERONAUTICS, WHICH IS APART FROM ARMY AIR SERVICE.

A FLOATING MOORING MAST FOR SHIPS LIKE THE ZR-3 AND SHENANDOAH, THIS IS THE U. S. PATOKA, ESPECIALLY EQUIPPED FOR THIS PURPOSE.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
N.E.A. Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 21.—At record breaking, American navy aviators lead the world.

Forty-two air records are officially recognized. Twenty of them are held by United States naval flyers.

Both the army's and the navy's aerial equipments have been severely criticized.

It's denied that they represent fair values for what they cost. Men like General Patrick and Rear-Admiral Moffett, respective heads of the two branches' aviation services, speak of the planes as mostly war-built and too slow for today.

Nevertheless, the navy's showing in the matter of records is wonderful. Experts give credit to men rather than to their machines.

The United States navy has 380 planes, a personnel of 3595; the army 450 planes and 10,300 personnel.

Other countries group their army and navy services together.

France has 1250 planes, personnel 35,500; Britain 600 planes, personnel 25,252; Japan 550 planes, personnel 2100; Italy 250 planes, built and 750 building, personnel 6500.

Some authorities say that of America's combined army and navy planes—810 in all—not more than 100 are serviceable.

Men Good, But Few
However, an airplane shortage is less serious than a shortage in fighting ships. Planes can be built faster, or adapted from commercial uses. The shortage is serious rather in that it implies a lack of trained men and the record indicates that America's personnel, man for man, is at least as good as any in the world.

Will have the ZR-3. Navy men think exceedingly well of both, as the very latest make of lighter-than-aircraft, perhaps without equals.

Of America's deficiencies in the matter of naval aircraft carriers and tenders, there's no difference of opinion among experts.

For the planes there's the old converted collier Langley of 12,700 tons; for the dirigibles the Wright, also old and slow—11,000 tons. In addition, two old battle cruisers, the Lexington and Saratoga, fast boats of 35,226 tons each, are being converted as aircraft carriers, but at the present rate this work will not be finished under three or four years.

"The Langley," said Admiral R. E. Conzalez in his report on the Culebra maneuvers this year, "was supposed to carry 58 planes but actually had only six, which, however, served good purpose, considering their number and capabilities, and the Langley's own characteristics."

Catapults Fall
Aside from regular carriers, battleships and cruisers also now launch planes from catapults. Of their effectiveness at the Culebra maneuvers Admiral Conzalez said:

"The Atlantic squadron had 27 seaplanes which were most successful working from a base, catapults not working well on ships. Therefore the Langley was the only ship to send up planes."

"Arresting gear, deck lighting and the material requirements to permit night flying should be developed. Aircraft carriers should have separate radio receiving rooms in order that planes in the air may be communicated with efficiently while radio work with other units is going on.

"Anti-aircraft batteries of the older ships are incomplete and this is the more serious because of the lack of aircraft carriers."

"The construction of the two carriers building should be expedited," Admiral Conzalez adds, "and it should be borne in mind that each will require the constant attendance of from three to six destroyers, which should be provided."

As compared with America's one completed plane carrier, Britain has 3, of a total of 48,100 tons, with 3 more building, representing another 56,300 tons. Japan is building 2, of 62,400 tons.

Both British and Japanese battleships and cruisers of all classes of course carry planes.

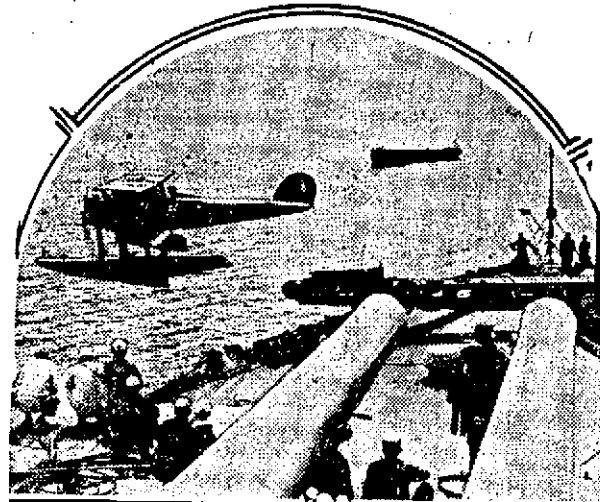

Just Beginning
Aviation in all countries is admittedly in a formative stage.

The flyers' vital importance is recognized, as scouts and gun spotters, and to some extent for actual attacks on fighting ships, although, with the best possible luck, an aerial bomber can count on no better than 1 hit in 25, according to a recent navy bulletin—and as many as five such hits probably would not sink a modern battleship.

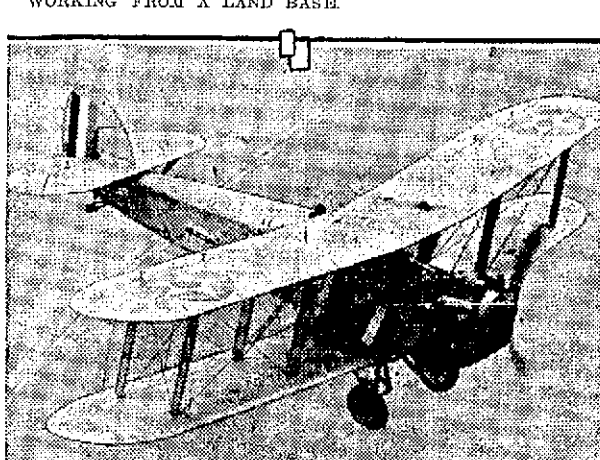

However, important as aviation is conceded to be, the best authorities insist it gives no promise of supplanting surface fleets.

"The field of aircraft over the sea," says H. H. McIntyre, a navy critic, "is wide already and will expand."

"They will scout, attack ships and stations with bombs and torpedoes and will greatly increase the gun-

MOVIE ATTENDANCE
DROPS OFF IN 9 YEARS

BY THE N.E.A. PLAY JURY
NEW YORK, July 21.—If the information reaching the jury is correct, then the motion picture industry in this country is facing a serious problem.

It seems that the average daily attendance in movie houses in this country has dropped from 20,000,000 in 1915 to 5,000,000 today. This figure given by a man in the distribution branch of the industry.

That's a startling item. The informant goes on to say that the high admission prices are to blame for this sharp drop in attendance, and we are inclined to agree with him. It is made to reduce the price of admission, if the earning capacity of the industry is to rise.

It is pointed out that there are 40,000,000 income earners in this country and that 50 per cent of them earn less than $2000 a year. They represent the mass of the picture audience. They are the ones whose nickels and dimes made the industry what it is today, and now because their earnings haven't increased, they find themselves financially harried from attending the movies as often as they formerly did and as often as they would like to.

Let us remember, this distributor says, "that the movie are the amusement of the masses and not allow ourselves to be too much disturbed by the opinions and criticisms of the classes. Your 'uplift' or class element makes ten times as much noise as your masses but the latter buy ten times as many picture theatre admissions."

The motion picture industry will not be overcast if we bring back the 15,000,000 daily customers who have strayed away, and they can be brought back by frequent changes of good, clean pictures that are fit for the whole family to see, exhibited at a price that the poor man can afford to pay.

That he is not altogether philanthropic he proves by adding that exhibitors will agree there was more money in the "old days" when pictures were shown to larger audiences and lower admissions, than there is today with orchestras, prologues and high admission prices.

New York has just witnessed a revival of a melodrama originally produced in London in 1842, "Sweeney Todd," by George D. Pitt, was the vehicle brought out of the attic for the theatrical fare of these modern theatregoers. And like most revivals, "Sweeney Todd" has proved to be a modern that many plays of today are merely adaptations of these old-timers.

The mystery play, the crook play of today, is very little different. "Leah Kleschna," was another of this stripe. This is a good time to look over the field and see what's what. There are 20 productions on the boards now. Of these 10 are musical shows, six are comedies, and the others might be called serious dramas. Most of the shows playing now are holdovers from the last season. Only a few are new summer shows. Twenty shows might sound like a good many to most non-New Yorkers. But during the regular season, the average number at one time in New York is 50.

Milton Ware Admitted Killing Staten Island Lad

Reported Confession Later
Repudiated—Charge Assault on Another Boy

NEW YORK, July 21.—Milton Ware, arrested at Newark last night on a charge of assault on a young boy there, is said by the jailer there to have confessed to the murder of Francis McDonnell, eight-year-old son of a Staten Island policeman, whose body was found in a lonely spot near Port Richmond last Tuesday. He later repudiated the reported confession.

Ware is said to have nervously confessed to Jailer James Down: "I killed a boy named McDonnell or McDonnell on Staten Island." Questioned by Down, Ware is said by the police to have declared: "It is too terrible to talk about, too terrible to think about."

SIGNALS SHIFT AS SHIP GOES NORTH

By N.E.A. Service
HARTFORD, Conn., July 19.—Radio enthusiasts are mystified over the shift in radio signals of Donald B. MacMillan's "Rowdoin" in the Arctic from the east coast to the west.

It is the surprising nature of the amateur radio tests that have been conducted during the last year as the famous schooner sailed northward for further Arctic exploration.

While the vessel sailed up the coast of Greenland, Donald Mix, its radio operator, was in good two-way contact with amateurs in the eastern part of the United States. At a point farther north, however, the signals began to be picked up on the Pacific coast and the eastern amateurs lost contact with Mix.

This condition existed through all last winter, although at times amateurs at other points succeeded in picking up short messages from Mix. For nearly seven months reliable contact was maintained, while intermittent signals were received during the rest of the time.

With the approach of daylight in the Arctic signals from Mix have continued to fall off, except for an occasional "all's well." Contact is expected to be renewed soon when MacMillan starts for home.

DEATHS

DELANEY—The many friends of Mrs. Amanda (Lambert) Delaney will be deeply shocked to learn of her death which occurred early yesterday morning at St. John's hospital after a brief illness. Mrs. Delaney was a widely known young woman in many circles and her death, coming when the future held so much promise for her, will cause sincere regret throughout the city and to her wide circle of friends. For the last four years she had resided in Cleveland, O., returning to her native city only a few weeks ago. She is survived by her husband, Lawrence, an infant son; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Lambert; seven brothers, Counselor Maurice J. Lambert, Jr., George J., Adela J., and Victor J. Lambert; two sisters, Miss Sarah M. Lambert and Mrs. Ernest J. Landry and several nieces and nephews. She was a member of St. Anne's sodality of the Notre Dame de Lourdes church of Lowell. The body was removed to her home, 380 Middlesex street, by Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

BYRNE—The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Catherine Byrne will regret to learn of her death which occurred last night at St. John's hospital. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception parish since coming to this city and was deeply loved in her home circle. She was loyal to her friends and they were legion. Besides her husband, Patrick J. Byrne, she leaves two daughters, Miss Mary A. and Miss Catherine V. Byrne, two sons, Patrick J. Jr., and Michael P., and one sister, Mary McFarlin of San Francisco, Calif. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception church. The body will be removed to her home, 56 Pleasant street, by Undertakers Higgins Bros.

DRONEY—Mrs. Jennie Droney, a resident of this city for the past 25 years, died Saturday evening at the Lowell General hospital at the age of 66 years. She is survived by her husband, Thomas Droney; one daughter, Miss Donald Droney of New York city; two brothers, David and William Thomas of this city. Her home was at 81 Merrimack street. The body was removed to Saunders' Funeral home, 217 Appleton street.

COSTELLO—John H. Costello, a resident of this city for the past 20 years and an attendant at the Immaculate Conception church, died Saturday after a brief illness at the home of Frank J. McCullough, 180 Fayette street, aged 73 years. He leaves three brothers, George of Hutchinson, Kan., Michael of Fort Congham, N. Y., and James Costello of Lincoln, Neb. He was a member of the Carpenters' union. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker William A. Mack, 70-76 Gorham street.

PLUNKETT—Michael Plunkett, an old resident of this city, died yesterday after a long illness. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Liberty of Lynn. The body was removed to the funeral home of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons, 14 Highland street.

BRITISH-AMERICAN SOCIAL CLUB OUTING

The annual outing of the British-American Social club was held at Salom Willows and was attended by over a hundred members and invited guests.

The party made the trip from this city in auto trucks, leaving the Free church at 10 a. m. Following luncheon upon arrival at the Willows, a sports program was run off and valuable prizes distributed to winners of the various events. The sports committee consisted of Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. Tall and Mr. Clegg. The two latter acting as judges and W. E. Dawson as starter. Upon completion of the sports program, the members enjoyed themselves at the various amusement places and in bathing, returning to this city early in the evening.

Another outing of the club, for members only, will be held at Ravara beach, August 9th.

FLEET LEAVES NEWPORT TO COVER HOMEWARD BOUND FLIERS

Sea Lanes Beneath Daring Airmen to Be Patrolled By Naval Vessels Under Rear Admiral MacGruder—
Airmen Expected in Boston Within a Month

NEWPORT, R. I., July 21.—The navy today began its task of keeping watch below while the army world fliers soar over the Atlantic on the homeward leg of their journey. The cruiser Richmond, flagship of Rear Admiral Thomas MacGruder, commanding the light cruiser squadron, slipped out of this port at 6 a. m., the advance guard of about a dozen naval vessels. These will be stationed along the route of the aviators from England to Scotland, thence by way of the Orkney Islands, Iceland and Greenland to the bleak coast of Labrador, and onward across Newfoundland and Nova Scotia to home soil at Boston.

Milwaukee will go to Halifax and then will distribute supplies to various points where the fliers are scheduled to stop. The destroyers will be strung out along the leg from Greenland to Labrador. By this method the navy department hopes to be in continuous touch by radio with the men who are making history in the air. The installation in England of sending and receiving apparatus on the flag plane will enable Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, to communicate at all times with Admiral MacGruder on the Richmond or with others of the war craft along the line.

If the latest schedule drawn up from the housing plans is carried out they will drop into the more or less sheltered waters of Indian Bay, Labrador, on August 17. Four days later they should reach Picton, N. S., and after a brief stop proceed to Boston and thence down the coast to Washington and across the continent, to complete their flight at its starting point in California.

TENANTS DRIVEN OUT BY EARLY MORNING FIRE

Fire starting in a restaurant early Sunday morning extensively damaged the block at East Morrishack and Davidson streets owned by the Massachusetts Realty Co. and forced a number of tenants on upper floors to seek temporary shelter in the Memorial Auditorium and in the homes of neighbors.

When first discovered at 2.30 a. m. an alarm was sounded from Box 82. Patrolman Thomas J. Sherry aroused persons sleeping in upper tenements and directed them across the street to the Auditorium. They were about to return to their homes a half hour later on the sounding of the recall when the fire again broke out, this time in a blind attic, and spread so rapidly that first and second alarms were sent in by District Chief Sullivan from Box 8.

The fire burned fiercely in the attic and the entire building suffered a considerable water and smoke loss, particularly Brunelle's pharmacy, the grocery store of Peter E. Haudley, the bootblack shop of Arthur Banos and the fruit store of George Yarik.

The restaurant where it is believed the fire originated is owned by Christos Parlaras and Evangelos Mameleas and was badly damaged.

ROMANIAN PARTIES AGREE ON PROGRAM

BUCHAREST, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—After several months of negotiation, the two strongest opposition parties in the Rumanian parliament have finally reached agreement upon a common program. These parties are the Transylvanian nationalists, under Jule Maniu, and the peasants under Dr. Nicholas Lupu. While the new group, which will be known as the national peasants party, under the parliamentary leadership of Mr. Maniu, will control at present only about 25 per cent of the voting strength of the chamber of deputies, its strength in the country is enormously greater.

In an election that freely expressed the preferences of the voters, it is believed the nationalists would have an almost unanimous vote in the new territories of Transylvania, Bocoovina and the Banat, while the peasants could undoubtedly count on a substantial majority in the Old Kingdom and in Bessarabia. In other words, the new "bloc" would probably have an overwhelming parliamentary majority. In spite of the fact that it would place the government of the country largely in the hands of Transylvanians.

The present liberal party government, however, representing as it does the financial and industrial interests of the country, and strongly supported by the crown, the Orthodox church and what is left of the old land-owning aristocracy, will be difficult to dislodge. Premier Brancu has recently announced that the government has no intention of resigning, but the best informed opinion seems to be that there will be grave risks of internal disorders if the government attempts to hold on for many months more. The best success at present seems to be that the liberals will stay until the autumn session of parliament, and that they will then attempt, with the approval of the king, to have General Averescu, a former premier, and commander-in-chief of the Rumanian army during the World war, form a stop gap government in order to try to keep out the Transylvanians and the peasants.

The program of the new national peasants party has been skillfully drawn up so as to make a strong appeal for foreign support, not only political, but financial. This program, while insisting completely on the present constitutional system, favors a federalized form of government, similar to Switzerland, as against the present centralized form in which the new territories are dominated by the Old Kingdom. Complete freedom, not only in theory, but in practice, is to be granted to all racial minorities, regardless of creed or religion; the term of military service would be reduced; and the financial and economic status of the country would be drastically reorganized so that the foreign capital necessary for Rumania's economic development would be attracted to the country on a just and safe basis.

This takes direct issue with the policy of the present government, which insists that any foreign capital employed in Rumania must be under Rumanian control and subordinate to Rumanian capital. The new party also stands for the abolition of the dominance of the Orthodox church in all ecclesiastical matters.

The second most important opposition party, the recently formed people's democratic party, under the leadership of Prof. N. Iorga, which is a combination of the national democrats and the people's parties. The program of the people's democratic party is now so similar to that of the national peasants that, when the general election comes, both of the new parties will probably stand together in order to form a solid anti-liberal "bloc."

SYRUP PEPsin
Made them feel jolly again

Good Health In Happy Old Age

THE chief concern of elderly people is their health, and that is best assured by regular daily bowel movement. There is no truth, however, in the notion that because you are old you need a "strong physic." In fact, just because you are old a mild laxative is better for you. The trouble with purges and cathartics and physics is that they shock the system and weaken it, and make the muscles of digestion flabby. Dr. G. H. Brown, V. S., of Frederic, Wis., nearly wrecked his stomach with purgatives. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin restored his health, as it did Mrs. J. S. Etheridge's, of Milledgeville, Ga.

Does Not Grip
You can be sure of satisfactory evacuations every day if you will take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night when you retire. You will not need to take it very long as a few doses will soon encourage the bowels to act for themselves. The popularity of this wonderful family remedy has become so great that it is now the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world. Because of its mildness and freedom from gripping it is especially ideal for the extremes of ages, for children and for elderly people.

Effective at Small Cost
Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. The formula is on the package, and the cost less than a cent a dose. Take it when you feel heavy, sleep poorly, have headache or night cramps, for these are also symptoms of constipation. Give it to the children when they are restless, feverish or have a cold. Syrup Pepsin will keep you and the family free from constipation, a condition that lowers the vitality 25 per cent and raises the blood pressure 25 per cent. Freedom from constipation lessens the pain of kidney trouble, neuritis and rheumatism.

AIR MAIL PILOTS COVER MILES BY MILLION

CHICAGO, July 21. (By Associated Press)—Pilots winging their way back and forth across the United States in the air mail service had covered 5,384,810 miles up to May 31, a distance done in 58,262 hours, according to Luther K. Bell, traffic manager of air mail service here. It is a general average of nearly 22 miles an hour.

The names of 41 fliers who have given more than 100 hours' service to air mail are contained in a report from Mr. Bell, with the veteran E. Hamilton Lee, Hazelhurst headquarters, leading in number of hours. His total May 31 was 2,387 hours and 36 minutes for a distance of 201,205 miles. He was appointed to the air mail in December, 1918, and at present has the "run" between Long Island and Cleveland.

Pilot William C. Hopson, Omaha headquarters, went the honor, however, of having flown his plane the greatest distance, in 2238 hours and seven minutes service he covered 221,876 miles. He now follows the air path between Chicago and Omaha. Hopson is a Bill City, Kansas, product, who entered the air mail service in April, 1920, after a long record in civilian and army flying.

When Summer Comes Are You Tired, Weak, All Worn-out?

Is a constant backache spoiling your summer? Do you feel lame, stiff and achy; so utterly worn-out and miserable you can't enjoy a moment's rest or comfort?

Has it occurred to you it may all be due to weak kidneys? Well kidneys, you know, filter the poisons from the blood. But when the kidneys weaken, these body-toxins accumulate and upset the whole system. Backache is apt to follow, with sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't wait for serious kidney sickness. Use Doan's Pills. Lowell folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Lowell Folks:

Samuel Clark, machinist, 636 School St., says: "My back was lame and every time I stooped, a sharp pain cut into it. My rest was disturbed a great deal at night and I had to get up to pass the kidney urinations. I used Doan's Pills and they entirely rid me of the trouble."

Miss Sophia H. Bowen, 866 Middle St., says: "My back was lame and weak and I felt all out of sorts. My kidneys were badly disordered and I had dizzy spells, too. I got Doan's Pills at Liggett's Drug Store and they did me of the trouble. I have had no return of it since."

Hughes Says State Solons Despair of American Bar

ation at Westminster hall, declared the American delegates had come to England rejoicing in an amity which had become a fixed habit of two people intent on co-operation in the interest of peace.

"Of all international contacts," he said, "none could be happier than this. We have no political ends to serve, no differences to compose, no policies to advance, except the highest of all—the policy of understanding and good will. The fact that we are here is more eloquent than anything we can say. We come to lighten the burden of friendship.

"Many, probably most of us, are bound to you by ties of blood, but even stronger is the sense of the spiritual kinship that we are all privileged to have with those who in this island developed the institutions of liberty which were brought to the new world and were so fondly cherished that they were safeguarded in an unprecedented manner.

"We come in the spirit of fraternity which has triumphed over the diversities of the 48 commonwealths in our union because it is, in truth, the spirit of the larger fellowship represented here today in which differences of particular interest and environment cannot avail to obscure the community of tradition of those who have been trained according to the standard and the method of the common law.

"We come with even a larger aim than the enjoyment of fraternal association in order that by these agreeable interchanges and more intimate knowledge of each other we may promote a clearer appreciation of our privilege, opportunity and responsibility as ministers of justice in the world which needs justice and the reasonableness which makes justice possible.

"The common law which treasured as a part of our birthright and inheritance, the ten talents that we thus received have been employed so profitably that we are almost overcome by the wealth that has flowed from the investment. The commonwealth in our union of states, each sovereign within its sphere, are producing laws at a rate which has filled us with anxiety lest no one should be able to know the law. The fertility of the legislative soil is our despair. Our lady of the common law has had an embarrassing program."

"It was realized at the beginning that the courts of justice were organized with particular reference to exempt them from the baleful influence of faction. We have given, as was said by Mr. Evans, 'a new exaltation to the power of the judiciary.' We have lifted up the principle of the common law, and have exalted it to the point that judicial reason in the forum of forensic discussion shall be the final arbiter of the rights of the people against their congress, against their magistrates and between the states and the nation—that all shall obey."

"The deliberate and difficult duty has been well discharged and notwithstanding repeated efforts to undermine this jurisdiction of the supreme court of the United States as the final authority in the interpretation and application of the constitution it retains its hold upon the confidence of people. I believe that the attacks upon it once more renewed will again fail.

"But if we have maintained the tradition so happily received of an independent judiciary, it is only because we have also conserved the tradition of authority but always keen for the defense of individual rights against abuses of power, intent upon giving every man his day in court and ever watchful of judicial arbiters lest they lose their footing in the slippery paths of the law."

"Of course inevitable, that, with the legislatures and courts, the states constantly deciding and legislating, we should have not only multiple but divorcing laws, which your efforts to establish uniform laws, especially in relation to the important transactions of commercial life, have modified only in a limited degree.

"There is still the need to recognize the ancient right and it is the most precious right of democracy—the right to be governed by law and not by officials—the right to reasonable, definite and proclaimed standards which the citizen can invoke against both violence and caprice."

ARRESTED IN MAINE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN DAVIS STARTS HIS WRITINGS

Lawrence Youths Charged With Thefts From Home of R. J. Macartney

LAWRENCE, July 21.—Paul Matuchian and Paul Davydon, Lawrence youths, aged 17 and 18, respectively, are in the custody of the Saco, Me., police, charged with attempted theft of an automobile and with several breaks at Saco and Portland. The Lawrence police have been looking for them since the burglary at the home of R. J. Macartney, Berkeley street, about three weeks ago.

Matuchian, according to the Lawrence authorities, is an escaped inmate of the Lyman school for boys at Westbrook. A watch and other valuables, found in the possession of the boys, have been returned to their owners. In Portland, Davydon and Matuchian told the Saco officers that they had left a diamond ring and other jewelry on the shore of a pond in North Saco, where they went swimming. These also were restored to their owners.

The looting of the Macartney home here is said to have been about the clearest ransacking of a house ever brought to the attention of the Lawrence police. Every room, closet and drawer in the dwelling was searched systematically, and every movable article of any value was taken, to a total valuation of nearly $1000.

Sentence Suspended

SACO, Me., July 21.—Sentence was suspended on Paul Davydon, 18, and Paul Matly, 17, of Lawrence, Me., when they were arraigned this morning in the police court on charges of attempting to steal an automobile on Thursday last. They were turned over to the Portland police by whom they are wanted on charges of burglary in that city. The boys have been identified by Lawrence officers as former inmates at the Lyman State school.

ERIE EXPRESS KILLS TWO IN SEDAN

MONROE, N. Y., July 21.—Two women, sisters, are dead; another sister is near death in Goshen hospital, and a man, fourth member of a Sunday motoring party, is seriously injured, in consequence of a grade crossing accident here yesterday, when the westbound New York-Jamestown express of the Erie railroad crashed into the sedan of Adolph Potdevin, 1218 75th street, Brooklyn.

Miss Louise Filzer and Miss Carrie Filzer, both of Brooklyn, were killed. The injured are Miss Matilda Filzer and Adolph Potdevin, who was driving the car.

Liquor and Vice Squad

In court to answer charges of liquor law violations, and those paid fines aggregating $10,725. Seven cases were appealed and four are still pending. Fourteen defendants were adjudged not guilty and were discharged and four cases were placed on file.

Among the other arrests attributed to the squad are the following: Adultery, 1; abandoned children, 1; burglars' tools in possession, 1; disorderly house, 1; gaming house, 1; gaming implements found, 4; arrests for gaming, 135; gaming raids, 12; house of ill-fame, 1; lewd, 1; lewd and lascivious, 4; operating an automobile while drunk, 1; keeping a gambling place, 1; operating an automobile without a license, 2; narcotic drugs, 11; prostitution, 1.

HUNGARY GRANTS AMNESTY

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 21.—All persons involved in the attempt to restore former Emperor Charles to the throne when the late monarch made his sensational descent upon Hungary three years ago are to be granted amnesty. The cabinet desired to take action on the proposal by Admiral Porthal, the regent, after a long discussion. The grant will include Count Andrássy and Count Sigray, whose before her marriage was Miss Harriet Daly of Butte, Montana.

DAWES PLAN IS DISCUSSED

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press) Premier MacDonald of England today conferred for two hours with Premier Herriot of France, Finance Minister de Stefani of Italy, Premier Theunis of Belgium and Ambassador Kellogg of the United States regarding ways and means of obtaining an agreement between the delegates of the Inter-Allied conference on the enforcement of the Dawes plan. While the plenipotentiaries discussed the broad phases of the Dawes plan, the committees of experts continued their efforts to reach an agreement on the measures for bringing about the fiscal and economic unity of Germany. It is believed this will be realized by tonight except for the question of railway control, which remains a stumbling block to the plans for the evacuation of the Ruhr.

REPORT U. S. CRUISER AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, July 21.—The United States cruiser Milwaukee arrived in port yesterday en route to the North Atlantic where it will arrange for the reception and care of the world-encircling United States army airmen. The headquarters of the cruiser will be Indian Harbor.

COLUMBUS' LANDING PLACE U. S. SOIL

SAN JUAN, July 21.—Governor Towner today formally accepted from the Insular government the gift of the tract of land near Aguadilla where Christopher Columbus landed in 1493, the only spot under the American flag where the discoverer of America ever set foot. The government will develop the tract as a park in which the Knights of Columbus of the United States have offered to erect a suitable Columbus monument.

SEN. WALSH QUILTS COMMITTEE POST

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts resigned today as chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee and was succeeded by Senator Jones of New Mexico.

"In accordance with precedent I am relinquishing my duties as chairman of the senatorial committee," Senator Walsh said, "as it is the practice for a senator to serve in this capacity for only one congressional election."

Even Mayor Linge was not immune from the wholesale vaccination Pittsburgh is undergoing. Here he is getting a "shot" in the arm from Dora Josephson, a city nurse.

HEALTH CAMP FOR BOYS OPENED TODAY

The summer health camp for boys, near the isolation hospital, opened this morning. Sixty-five boys, under the supervision of Miss Grace Carroll, arrived at camp early this forenoon. Miss Carroll, assisted by an able corps of nurses, will be in charge of the boys during their stay at camp.

Plan Great Welcome

stration," he said, "there will be an aerial circus. We will send three squadrons of planes each up the coast of Maine some as far east as Pictou, N. S., to escort Lieutenant Smith and his associates to Boston. The chief of the air service, General Mason M. Patrick, and his assistant chief, General William B. Mitchell, as well as officers from Washington, will fly here to extend the welcome. We are preparing also to handle about 50 visiting planes at the East Boston air port.

"The planes will probably land in Boston harbor and taxi up to the port, as they will be equipped with pontoons until they take on wheels again here. The fleet will probably follow the Maine coast down from Pictou, which will give an opportunity to thousands of persons at the New England resorts to see them; or they may cut across the Gulf of Maine and shorten the distance.

"The fact that Old Orchard, Maine, has been made an emergency landing field and supply base indicates, however, that it is likely they will take the beach route.

"At Boston, equipped again with wheels, they will make only a short stop over and then fly to Mitchell Field, N. Y."

John W. Davis, Main Street Sheik, Boyhood Pal Recalls

By N.E.A. Service

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 21.—John W. Davis will have his national campaign managers and district campaign managers, but his sister is going to have something to say about the campaign in his birth town.

She is Miss Emma K. Davis, a woman of forceful personality. Friends here predict that although she'll have no title in the democratic army, she'll take full command here.

Before her return from New York she had telephonic conferences with friends here, advising them how to proceed. It may be noted that they followed her directions explicitly.

She is as well known in Clarksburg as her brother, and friends take the liberty of referring to her as "Emma K." No one, however, has heard her so called to her face.

There is a striking similarity between the background of Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis. Both are from families of deep religious convictions.

John Davis, grandfather of the democratic nominee used to gather his slaves into his home Sunday evenings at Clarksburg and lead them and his family in prayer.

His religious zeal was passed on to John J. Davis, his son, who was the largest contributor to the Central Presbyterian church in Clarksburg. He was so active in its founding, and his financial aid so great, it is sometimes referred to as the "Davis chapel."

John W. Davis' parents were very strict. Friends tell how his mother once told him to go down to the post-office to get the mail.

John, then but a little fellow replied: "I would go, mother, but I am afraid it would spoil the servant."

His mother replied that she would rather have all her servants spoiled than to have her son shirk work.

Davis took warning and got the mail.

His mother gave Davis practically all of his grammar and high school education. He never went to the public schools of Clarksburg.

She was a brilliant woman. She mastered Latin and Greek after the birth of his first child.

For a short time Davis went to a private school conducted by one Bettlinger.

"Davis and I remember Bettlinger by one thing only," says George Duncan, now a Clarksburg banker, and once boyhood chum of Davis. "He always taught class with his feet on the desk and long black stogie in his mouth."

In spite of his rigorous training, Davis was a true boy, Duncan says.

Both probably were the 1893 counterparts of the modern sheik.

"We didn't go joyriding in autos in those days," Duncan says. "We owned horses and rigs. Many times Davis and I raced down Main street, to the dismay of the more staid folk. But Davis' horse could never beat my sorrel."

Davis used to run away from the maternal apron string to the old swimming hole with Duncan and other boys. Davis' grandfather was a saddler. His father also operated the saddlery in Main street for a number of years, even after Davis was born, but later entered the bar and politics.

Davis entered politics unknowingly against his father's strict orders. In 1910 delegates of the first West Virginia congressional district met to choose a congressional candidate.

Hearing they were almost unanimous for his son, John J. Davis sent a telegram forbidding him to accept the post. To make sure, he sent another telegram.

Ignatius Brennan, political boss, got the telegram first. He kept them in his pocket until after Davis accepted.

He was elected and has never been defeated for any office.

"I know more about Davis than his father," boasts Dr. J. W. Johnston, Davis' family physician for the past 25 years.

But upholding professional traditions, he won't tell secrets.

Dr. Johnston went to the democratic convention at his own expense to aid Davis. He claims to have swung the North and South Carolina delegations into line for him.

All Clarksburg's Davis mad. Business has ceased its usual quiet course since his nomination.

People who haven't spoken to each other for years are talking Davis on the street corners.

Visitors are inflamed by any number of self-appointed guides who insist on showing where Davis stood when he made his last speech, where he ate lunch, and where he first met Ellen Bassel, his second wife.

MISS EMMA K. DAVIS, SISTER OF JOHN W. DAVIS, WILL HAVE A LOT TO SAY ABOUT HOW HIS CAMPAIGN FOR THE PRESIDENCY IS CONDUCTED IN HIS HOME TOWN, CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

JOHN W. DAVIS IS UNLIKE MOST PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES, IN NOT BEING BORN IN A LOG CABIN. EVEN HIS OLDEST FRIENDS AREN'T SURE WHERE HE WAS BORN BUT MOST OF THEM THINK THE HOUSE ABOVE IS THE PLACE. THE DAVIS FAMILY MOVED INTO IT ABOUT THE TIME OF HIS BIRTH—FOLKS AREN'T SURE WHETHER IT WAS BEFORE OR AFTER.

DR. J. W. JOHNSTON HAS BEEN THE DAVIS FAMILY PHYSICIAN FOR 25 YEARS. HE WENT TO NEW YORK AT HIS OWN EXPENSE TO HELP NOMINATE HIM.

GEORGE DUNCAN, BANKER, AND THE BEST DRESSED MAN IN CLARKSBURG, W. VA., WAS A BOYHOOD CHUM OF DAVIS. THEY USED TO RACE HORSES ON MAIN STREET, AND DUNCAN CLAIMS HE ALWAYS WON.

HELD FOR 17 MURDERS

Police Charge Haartmann Would Drug Men and Then Strangle Them

HANOVER, Germany, July 21.—Fritz Haartmann, known as the "Vampire murderer," has been charged with 17 murders in an indictment just filed by the state's attorney. An investigation of Haartmann's personality, said he was a cold-blooded killer.

Dr. Kopp, a criminologist who has been conducting a scientific investigation of Haartmann's personality, said that "Haartmann is unquestionably a bewitching combination of a natural impulse." Most of the murdered men were said to have been "floaters" who were grateful for a night's lodging or a drink of brandy with which Haartmann is said to have drugged them. Haartmann admitted that he usually strangled the men while they were asleep.

INVENTOR'S APPARATUS ON MARKET

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, July 21.—Transmission of pictures by radio, long the subject of world-wide discussion and experiment, is at last ready for practical use.

Initial installations are now being made and soon the whole United States, as well as other countries, is expected to be covered with a network of radio photo transmitting and receiving apparatus.

A company has already been formed here for the purpose. It establishes and operates transmitting equipment, manufactures and leases receiving apparatus, and is continuing research work for perfection of the machinery. Basic patents have already been issued and others have been applied for.

Behind this tremendous advance in the history of wireless is C. Francis Jenkins, the inventor, who is a famous in the motion picture field as he is in the radio field. He has the distinction of being accredited the inventor of the first motion picture projector.

For the last few years it has been known that Jenkins had been working on a method of sending pictures by radio. Others, too, have been busy with the same idea, but Jenkins' machine is unique.

The basis of the apparatus is a prismatic ring, or disc, a new optical shape in glass, which Jenkins himself designed and can make only by the use of special apparatus. In the sending apparatus, four prismatic rings are combined, revolving across a light beam directed through a photo negative.

The electrical values are then sent out into space on radio carrier waves, just as sound is transmitted. At the receiving end, these electrical waves are caught, converted into light and recorded on a photo negative.

This one broadcasting station can transmit a photograph to as many points as have the required receiving apparatus, powerful enough to detect the waves of the broadcaster. In this, the photo broadcasting is similar to sound broadcasting, the distance of transmission being dependent on the power of the station and the strength of the receiving set.

Radio Vision Ahead
Jenkins expects to go even further. He forecasts the coming of radio vision and radio movies within a few years. In his laboratory here, five youths are helping him perfect these wonders. Combined with audio-radio, Jenkins sees the next generation listening and seeing plays and events enacted far away.

For the present, the Jenkins installation for broadcasting pictures by radio includes the transmission of messages, contracts and newspaper copy by this method. Jenkins has been able to flash 100 words a minute in this way. He predicts 1000 words a minute within a short time.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NEWS

Feast of Ste. Anne to Be Observed Saturday—Special Masses

Saturday, the feast of St. Anne, will be observed in the Catholic churches of the city with special masses and devotions.

The annual novena of the members of St. Anne's sodality of St. Joseph's parish was opened last evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. J. Laflamme, O.M.I., pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, Ottawa, is conducting the services.

The summer schedule of masses was followed in the churches. Holy Communion in a body.

Confessions for the girls of St. Patrick's parish will be heard Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special mass for the children will be celebrated at 7:45 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Blessed Virgin sodality of St. Rita's church meets tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Devotions to St. Rita, benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and rosary devotions will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Third Order of St. Francis of the Immaculate Conception parish meets tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. J. Kennedy of Houston, Texas, was the celebrant of the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. Margaret's church yesterday morning. The drawing of the grand prize offered at the garden party will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at St. Peter's orphanage.

The Immaculate Conception sodality of St. Peter's church will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The girls of the parish will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8:30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

Exercises of the novena during the week at St. John Hospital church will be held every evening at 7:15 o'clock. Confessions will be heard Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings. Those making the novena will receive Holy Communion in a body at a high mass to be celebrated at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The novena will be brought to a close on Sunday next at 8 o'clock when new members will be received into the sodality.

The members of Our Lady of Lourdes sodality received communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass at Notre Dame de Lourdes church yesterday morning.

The smaller girls of St. Marie's parish, South Lowell, received Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass celebrated yesterday morning by Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I., pastor of the church.

The members of the Children of Mary sodality and the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Jeanne d'Arc church will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

FORMER PASTOR AT ALL SOULS' CHURCH

Rev. Allen Conant Ferrin, for a number of years one of the best known members of the Lowell clergy when he was pastor of the High Street Congregational church, returned to the site of his old pulpit yesterday to preach at All Souls' church. He is at present in charge of a Congregational church at Claremont, N. H.

His sermon yesterday was based on a section of Paul's letter to the Romans, which deals with the question of choosing between God and man. It is a simple matter, he said, for it is a complex world in which we are living, with many factors to be considered. Men of intelligence and experience and with a common sincerity seek to mould our opinions to find us into courses that are directly opposite. It is not easy to choose between this conflict of opinions. But when it comes to a choice between man and God, between the opinions of men and character and principles of God recorded in Christ and His gospel, then there is but one conclusion. Our chosen must be that of God.

Many of Rev. Mr. Ferrin's former parishioners were present at the church service and were glad of the opportunity to again greet him.

WHOLE FAMILY ENDORSE TANLAC AS BEST TONIC

MR. & MRS. H.H. PISTOLE and Family

"Tanlac has been our constant friend for years, and my wife and myself and eight children are all enjoying wonderful health, largely due to this medicine," is the remarkable statement of Harry H. Pistole, 210 Arches St., Waco, Texas.

"In my own case Tanlac has done what seemed to be impossible. When I began taking it, my stomach was in such a bad fix that I had to live on a milk and egg diet and I was almost a skeleton. I had been flat on my back in bed and under treatment for 18 months and felt that my time was about up.

"After my case had been given up as hopeless and I thought I was beyond redemption, a relative put me on to Tanlac, and the result is I gained 20 pounds, and enjoy as good health as anybody could wish.

"My wife was all broken down in health. But now she weighs 165 pounds, and is strong and well and I am giving Tanlac credit for it. We give Tanlac to the children to tone them up and make them grow, and nobody ever had a healthier set of children than we have.

"Tanlac is certainly the greatest medicine on earth for anyone whose life is wrecked by bad health. We sure do have a great deal to praise Tanlac for at my house."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 millions bottles sold.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY AS A MURDERER

MEMPHIS, July 21.—Following his alleged confession to the murder of Mrs. Ruth McElwain Tucker and Duncan Waller, on the night of Jan. 21, 1923, and of W. O. Spencer about four months later, Charles Barr, 23, a negro, is held pending presentation of evidence to a grand jury.

Police declare the mysterious "roadside murders" which held motorists in terror last year, and today they will search for a missing diamond ring torn from the finger of Mrs. Tucker when she and Waller were shot to death on a country highway near Memphis. One ring, found by police in a pawnshop, is said to have been pulled from Mrs. Tucker's finger as she attempted to flee.

While batches of wounded men have been arriving in Santos, advices corroborate the indications contained in the official communication that there was no general fighting last week.

The postponement of the assault on the city by the government troops is said to have been influenced by the foreign consuls, who protested against the bombardment.

SAINT VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

A meeting of the Saint Vincent de Paul society of Lowell was held yesterday morning in Saint Patrick's Boys' school hall with President Humphrey O'Sullivan in the chair. All the conferences of the city were represented. Rev. John J. McGarry, O.C.M., pastor of St. Patrick's church was the speaker.

PLANES RECONNOITER ABOUT SAO PAULO

BUENOS AIRES, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—The federal assault against Sao Paulo, Brazilian metropolis held by the insurgents, may have already begun, according to indications contained in official despatches from Rio Janeiro. A recent communique issued by the government referred to an airplane reconnaissance for operations that are now proceeding. The rebels, numbering approximately 20,000, are said to be confident of the outcome. It is declared the revolutionary forces hold all the strategic points in and about Sao Paulo, and also have artillery placed there that are known as the English bluffs, which command the roads leading to the city.

While batches of wounded men have been arriving in Santos, advices corroborate the indications contained in the official communication that there was no general fighting last week.

The postponement of the assault on the city by the government troops is said to have been influenced by the foreign consuls, who protested against the bombardment.

Yanks Take Double Headers While Detroit Tigers Idle Sunday in Hub

CHAMPS TAKE TWO FROM INDIANS INCREASING LEAGUE LEAD

Washington Has to Take Out Walter Johnson to Save Game—Rixey as Pinch Twirler Has 32nd Scoreless Inning—Williams Gets 10th Homer

NEW YORK, July 21.—Boston's blue jays helped the Yankees to a 3-0 march on Detroit by coping a Sunday double-header from Cleveland while the Tigers were forced to twiddle their thumbs in the Hub. The result is that New York today faces Jobb's clippers in the first of what promises to be a "rip-snorting" series with a lead of 10 games and a half. Washington also took advantage of the juggernaut's idleness to advance to within one game of the second place.

The fast Cleveland-New York game was a battle, the final of which was 4 to 1. Shulte and Jones pitched cleverly, but the latter had a slight edge. The world champions romped to an easy win in the second engagement, hammering young Dawson and Meyer for ten runs against the Indians' four.

Johnson Leaves Box

In the only other American league contest Washington snatched a five to one triumph out of St. Louis' grasp with a ninth inning rally. Walter Johnson had to retire under fire in the 8th and Russell, his successor, got credit for the victory.

By a pinch hit, Philadelphia came from the darkest of the cellar into the comparatively bright sunshine of seventh place which they share today with Braves. The Cardinals won the opener, 7 to 1 and the Phillies came back in the second with a 3 to 2 win.

Cy Williams hit his tenth home run of the season in the first inning of the final.

BUSTED LEG MAY DIM COMBS' STAR

BY BILLY EVANS
"He's the greatest outfielder that has broken into the major leagues since the entry of Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker or Eddie Hough."
That is the compliment Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees paid Earl Combs, who recently suffered a broken leg in a game at Cleveland.
Combs at present is in New York convalescing. There will be no way of telling the effect of the injury until he takes his place among the game's greatest batters.
"Although a big fellow, Combs is unusually fast. He can step down to first as quickly as the diminutive Willy Wit, one of the fastest men going to first in the American League."
Has the Winning Spell
"Once he gets on, Combs uses his speed to his great advantage as in reaching first. He is able to get a big lead, sense the break and is a big man at hitting the dirt. His slide is most beautiful."
"His holding is on a par with his batting and speed. He gives every promise of being another Tris Speaker in the field."
"A fine disposition, a great competitive spirit, plus wonderful natural ability, made Combs stand out as a second Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and a few more of the great outfielders combined."
"I am worried about his broken leg. Few fast men ever come back as good as ever. The late Ray Chapman of Cleveland was one of the few exceptions."
All of which makes it apparent that Earl Combs, in his first year as a big leaguer, has most favorably impressed his manager, Miller Huggins.
Great Stars Are Rare
"He is one of those great players, real stars, who come only about every 25 years."
"Combs hasn't a single weakness. His arm isn't to be compared with Bob Meusel's, but is plenty good enough, far better than most major league outfielders."
"A natural batter, Combs hits any kind of pitching with equal ease. He times all kinds of pitching perfectly and hits the ball hard. If his injury doesn't affect his play, he is certain to take his place among the game's greatest batters."
"There were no formalities when the justice learned who was before him."

SPIKED UMPIRE'S FOOT

Leader of North Cambridge Baseball Team in Boisterous Mood
Looked Like Rough House For Little While at Saturday's Game

Dan Leahy, vociferous leader of the North Cambridge baseball team, ran true to form at Alumni field Saturday afternoon, when he bitterly resented a 4 to 3 defeat handed his team by the Abbots of Graniteville.

All during the game, Leahy displayed a boisterous tendency, but the climax came in the ninth when a North Cambridge player was justly called out at third base for the final out of the matinee. Leahy immediately engaged in a protest, emphasizing his indignation by approaching Umpire Mansell, who, by the way, was not responsible for the decision, and in the heat of an argument, he stepped on the umpire's foot with his spiked shoe. Mansell was painfully hurt by the incident, and the fans realizing his predicament, rushed on the field and swarmed about Leahy. The latter was dealt several uncomplimentary threats and was in a very dangerous position when Police Officers William Reagan, Frank O'Dea and Francis O'Loughlin arrived at his side and escorted him to the visiting players' clubhouse.

Meanwhile, a devout Abbot fan began to show the effect of the wrangling and sought to punch a Cantab representative. He was quieted by Officer O'Dea and sent home after he had received of Umpire Mansell. It is understood, was forced to require treatment for his spike wound at St. John's hospital.

As far as the game itself was concerned, Saturday's Abbots were better than the Cantab crew. Eddie Boyce, reliable southpaw heaver, had the hitters eating out of his hand most of the distance, while the blue uniformed contingent from Graniteville was in a hitting mood, facing out singles at will against the offerings of the famed Chippy Gave. Every one of the winning team's runs were earned.

They had an engagement with a justice of the peace in Whitney Point.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE NASHUA TEAM

Two no-hit, no-run games within a month is the record of Pitcher McCarthy of the Nashua team as the result of his 1-0 victory over the Silesia Mills team at North Chelmsford yesterday afternoon. During the nine frames in which he worked against the heavy Silesia batsmen, McCarthy was faced by but 27 men, and while his offerings were touched up quite frequently by the North Chelmsford boys, he was given superb support.

The only run of the game came in the seventh stanza when Ryan took hold of a groover and sent the ball hurtling to deep center field for a home run.

It is said that his son, Earl, who sits next to him on the bench each day, is to be his successor as manager. He is being trained for the job.

In an effort to get some new faces it is rumored that Mack intends parting with several of his veteran players, the most notable one being Catcher "Cy" Perkins.

Rated the best backstop in the league a few seasons back, Perkins is getting no better. He has apparently outlived his usefulness in Philadelphia, and it is said Mack intends to get rid of him while the trading is good.

Other veterans who have failed are in the same basket.

American Swimmers Break Additional Records at Olympic Games in France
American Tennis Team Clinches Victory Because of Wins Yesterday

PARIS, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—With the Olympic boxing and swimming team championships added to the rapidly growing list of international triumphs, the United States will complete another conqueror's march this afternoon on the Colombes tennis courts.

The two young American tennis stars, Miss Helen Wills and Vincent Richards, clinched the team victory yesterday when they won the singles championships, the former from Miss Valste by the score of 6-2, 6-2.

The United States points scores will be increased today regardless of the outcome of the finals in the men's and mixed doubles. The men's event will be the third Franco-American contest, with Richards and Francis T. Hunter opposing the French stars, S. Cochet and Brunner.

But the fifth title match of the tournament will see an all-American battle between the mixed doubles combination of Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup and Richards and Mrs. George Whitman and R. Norris Williams, 2nd. Both pairs triumphed in the semi-finals yesterday.

The American swimmers hung up a record-breaking triumph, overwhelming all rivals by taking first places in 13 of 17 events and scoring 217 points against 53 by Sweden, their nearest competitor. The Americans scored more points than ever fell to any country at any Olympic meet in the history of the game.

In the grand final yesterday two world records were broken and another equaled; four new marks being set for the 100 metres back stroke for women and the 800 metres men's relay, while the record made by Marlieschen Wehse of Honolulu in the 100 metres free style was equaled by Ethel Lackie of Chicago.

The United States had almost a walk over in the 800 metres relay. The team, composed of Dryer, Glancy, O'Connor and Weismuller, won with plenty of spare from the speedy Australians. Miss Sybil Bauer clipped four-fifths of a second from the world's record in the 100 metres back stroke, her time being 1 minute, 23 1-5 seconds.

Weismuller came within two-fifths of a second of the world's record created by himself in winning the 100 metres free style. His time was 59 seconds flat. The new world's record for the relay was 9 minutes, 53 2-5 seconds, six seconds better than the former one.

The United States boxers, who carried off the battling championship of the Olympic games by scoring 38 points for a close team victory over Great Britain, which had 30, broke training today's boxers from American won two out of eight championships.

With a substitute pitcher on the mound, the Abbot Worsted overhauled Maynard, 13 to 3, at Graniteville yesterday afternoon. Outfielder Minetti was the substitute who did the twirling and made a good job of it. He held the visitors to seven hits, while his own teammates were wallowing the apple for fifteen.

Marler Urran got a home, while Dameron St. Angelo and Kroh connected for triples. Three Maynard pitchers were used in an effort to stem the tide.

The City Twilight League has been going along at a merry pace. With the detronement of the Pawtucket A.A. by the Bellevues as leaders in the league standing and the steady gaining of the Bellevues, Americans, the three leaders intend to fight it out to a bitter finish, while the Centralville East Ends, the Butlers and Ricard's Bellevues are by no means out of the running.

Tonight's game will bring together the reorganized Centralville East Ends, strengthened by the acquisition of several new players, and the hard-hitting Pawtuckets, fifth the star twirler, Chick Tardiff. If the Pawtuckets win this game, they will go right after the Bellevues for premier honors.

The Pawtuckets, by the way, have entered a protest concerning the game with the Bellevues two weeks ago tonight. On that occasion Tommy Fleming's rank planned a 1-0 defeat on the Pawtucketville aggregation, but Manager Flynn of the A.A. protests that the game was won on an illegal decision by the umpire. For the purpose of settling the contention of both sides, a special meeting of the league representatives will be held at Crescent rink tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock. As there is a considerable amount of other important business to come up for discussion, it is hoped that every team will be represented.

In Wednesday night's game between the Belmonts and Butlers, Frank Ricard, sponsor of the Belmonts, will donate three valuable prizes to be awarded to the fans holding the lucky tickets.

Sisler is Still "Off" 30 P. C.

1922 — 100%
1924 — 70%

Showing his importance to the St. Louis Browns in 1922, when he was 100 per cent efficient and as he looms today, with his effectiveness lessened 30 per cent as a result of his illness of last year.

NEW YORK, July 18.—While George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns has done a remarkable comeback after being out of the game for a year, American League pitchers say he is far removed from the dangerous batter of old.
A glance over the American League batting averages since the opening of the season bears out the opinion of the pitchers.
Sisler, instead of being up among the leaders with a mark close to .400, has been far down the line, most of the time hovering around the .300 mark.
"Sisler is just about 70 per cent efficient," remarked a veteran pitcher recently in discussing the status of the famous player.
"While still a good hitter, he is far from the dangerous batsman he once was. There is a lack of snap to his swing. His hits are more often Texas leaguers than line drives."
"In pitching to Sisler I have noticed that he does not follow the ball as closely as when he was leading the league in hitting. As a result, he hits into many of his drives going to left field, seemingly lacking in power."
"Sisler is a great player and a good hitter, but far below his brilliant form of other years."

Heavyweight is Held Up By Immigration Authorities and Woman Questioned

Wild Bull of the Pampas Anxious for Another Dempsey Mill

NEW YORK, July 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, and his party were detained aboard the liner American Legion today by immigration authorities, who questioned them for some time after the steamer docked. The authorities declined to state the reason for the detention.

They also questioned a woman named Bianca Lourdes, a friend of Firpo, who had a state room adjoining the fighter's. She said she was en route to Cuba.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, whose recent visit to this country is for the purpose of meeting Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, will arrive on the liner American Legion from Buenos Aires today. After Firpo's arrival here, he is expected to begin his long training grind.

Firpo's decision to return to Atlantic City, where he trained for his bout with Jack Dempsey last September, came as a surprise to ring followers. It was generally understood that Firpo would fight Dempsey in the south American continent.

One of the matters Firpo plans to talk over with Rickard while in this city is the possibility of arranging a fight bout with Dempsey in case the south American fights are successful.

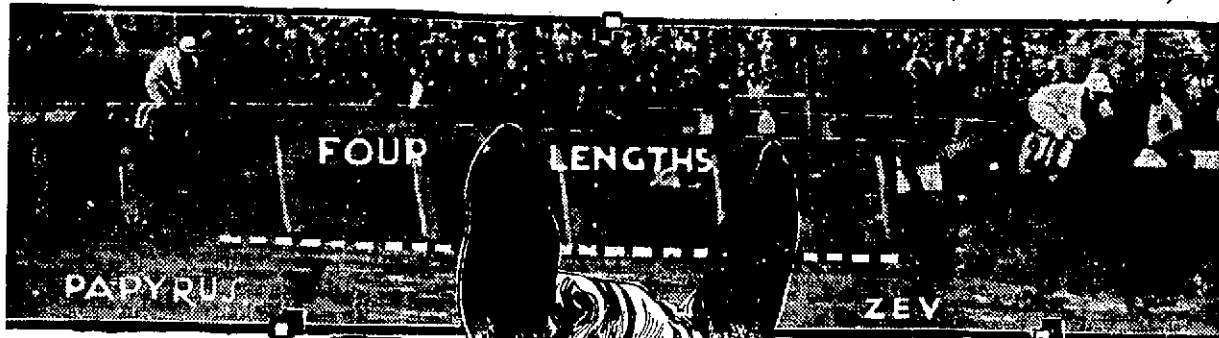

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Buildings of the type of a thousand years ago, and more, are rising on the University of Michigan campus here as the first structures to house the Michigan Law school become an actuality.

Walls of Gothic type copied from ancient structures in Picardy and Champagne, or certain famous cathedrals in England, are being reared here by new world workmen who, instead of following the hand chisel work of early craftsmen, are making dexterous use of the numberless facilities of the age of electricity and the trip-hammer.

The Michigan Law school is an attempt by a donor whose identity is kept secret, to environ the graduate and the advanced law student here with such surroundings that he will not hurry on to the ranks of practicing attorneys until he has delved widely and profoundly into the legal understanding and traditions of the profession.

Within the partially completed buildings is a hall destined to be, for a time at least, the show place of the club. It is more than 100 feet long, 50 feet wide at the beginning of the oak beamed roof and about that distance in width. It will be the dining room of the club.

Papyrus Was Easy for America's Best—Will Epinard, Great French Horse, Fall Down, Too?

(By NEA Service)

NEW YORK, July 21.—What will be Epinard's fate in the international horse duels this season? The great French horse is now in this country training for a series of races against the cream of the American turf.

Epinard's first start will be made at Belmont, the second at Aqueduct, the third at Latonia.

The Latonia event is likely to overshadow the other two in point of national interest because Black Gold, champion three-year-old of the current season, will be listed among the starters.

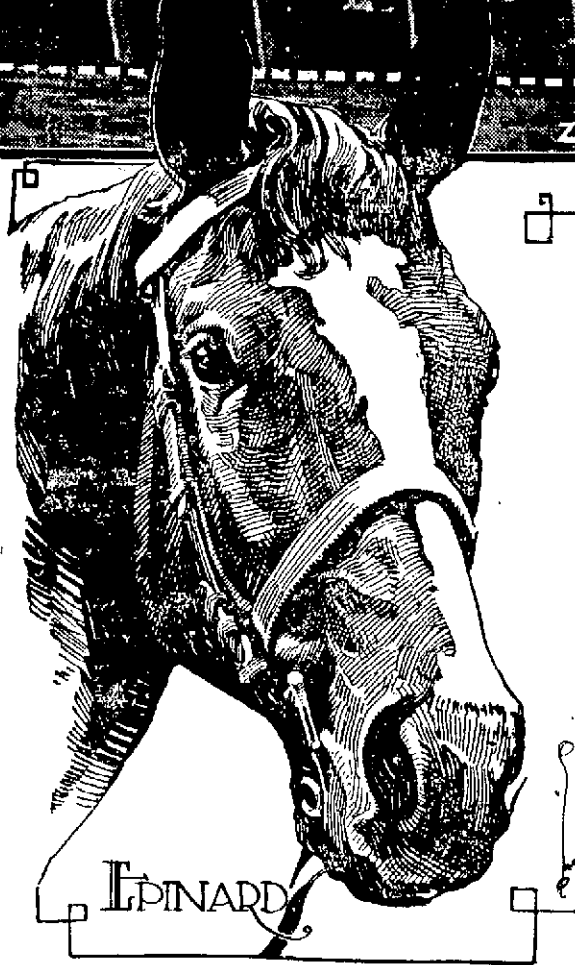

This recalls the visit of Papyrus to this country last fall. Papyrus was greeted as the super-horse of the European turf, just as Epinard is now Papyrus was sent against Zev, the then champion three-year-old of the states, and was roundly beaten. Zev won in a canter by four lengths. Papyrus was never in the running.

Climate Beat Papyrus? After the race veteran horsemen expressed the opinion that Papyrus was a much better horse than the result indicated. "No horse can come from one country to another and get perfectly acclimated in less than six months' time," they contended.

How will this theory hold in Epinard's case? The French horse has only recently arrived. In less than two months' time he will be swimming into action against the fastest horses in this country. Will he succeed where Papyrus failed? Time alone can tell.

Epinard is a beautiful horse with every characteristic of a champion.

FOUR LENGTHS

Competent observers say Epinard is a much better horse in every respect than Papyrus, being sounder of legs and much longer gaited. So far the French invader has shown no ill effects and appears to be acclimating splendidly.

Black Gold's Big Race Some of the thoroughbreds that are sure to start against Epinard are Oranmore, Laddin, Wise Countess, Zev, Grey Lady, Mad Hatter, In Memoriam, Charolet, Chilhowie, My Own and Black Gold.

Because Black Gold has had the most spectacular record of any American horse this season he stands out as Epinard's foremost challenger, and the meeting between the two is likely to excite as much interest as the one between Papyrus and Zev did last year.

Black Gold has won four derby events since spring, starting with the Louisiana Derby at New Orleans. Next came the Kentucky Derby at Louisville, the Ohio Derby at Cleveland and the recent Chicago Derby at Chicago.

Black Gold would have to carry 113 pounds, according to the Kentucky age scale in October. Epinard, a four-year-old, would carry 122 pounds.

Last year the widely heralded international race between Papyrus, champion horse of England, and Zev, best of the American three-year-olds, developed into a race, with the English entry winning by four easy lengths. American turf fans are wondering what kind of race Epinard, the visiting French champion, will put up against the home star in the coming international events.

By MARGARET PLUNKETT
Drowning persons often grasp their rescuers around the neck from behind. To break this hold: Grasp the drowning one's lower hand and pull down. Put your other hand on the elbow of his lower arm and push up. Duck your head under this arm.

Thus you will be freed from his grasp. Continue pulling down on the hand, twisting it until the person has turned his back. At this position you will be in command of him. (Copyright, 1924, The Lowell Sun)

EVER SEE FLYING FALL? HERE'S HOW IT'S WORKED
One of the biggest thrills in wrestling is the flying fall, where a wrestler shoots through space, gets the desired hold and flings his opponent to the mat, shoulders downward, all in one movement. This unusual action picture shows two English wrestlers executing the maneuver in spectacular manner.

Do you know Baseball?

Questions
1. With bases filled and two out, batter hits a ground ball in the direction of right field, which hits runner going from first to second. Had ball not hit runner batter would have easily been thrown out at first. Umpire calls runner out for being hit by batted ball, retiring the side. How is the play scored relative to the batter?—F. G.

Answers
1. The batsman is charged with a time at bat and credited with a base hit when a batted ball comes into contact with a base runner before any play has been made on said ball. Since the runner is out in one inning, without any runs being scored, in the following manner: First batter triples and is out at the plate trying to stretch it into a homer. Second batter has the same experience. Next three batters single, filling the bases. Sixth batter grounds to the infield and his runner is hit by batted ball, making a hit for the batter. Six hits, no runs.

2. The batsman is not charged with a time at bat and granted first base because of the catcher's interference.

3. The batsman is not charged with a time at bat and granted first base because of the catcher's interference.

SWIMMING HINTS
Swimmers who try to frighten beach citizens by staying under water will offend no one by failing to come up.

Swimmers who can't swim will gain nothing by going out in water over their heads. There is enough rubbish at bottom of lake without adding to it.

Swimmers who wear gaudy jewelry on all occasions will find heavy iron anchors attached to neck both fashionable and appropriate.

Swimmers who dive from lofty heights should always pick out shallow places. In this way selection may avoid what really happens when irresistible force meets immovable object.

Swimmers who play practical jokes on lifeguards by screaming for help should never be ignored. If lifeguard hasn't a gun handy he should throw a 16-pound hammer, respecting all A. U. regulations, of course.

WESTERN GOLF PLAY GETS UNDERWAY

CHICAGO, July 21.—Star golfers, numbering 152, today started the 25th annual championship of the Western Golf Association at Alhambra golf club by playing the first 18-hole qualifying round. Another round tomorrow will determine the 31 golfers, who, with Chick Evans, defending title-holder, will compete at a match play for the crown now held by Evans for the eighth time.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The St. Peter's Cadeis, seconds, defeated the strong Emeralds of the Junior Twilight league, 20 to 3, Sunday.

The Young Cubs accept the challenge of the Hudson Juniors. The game will be played on the Bartlett school grounds.

If a ball player accepts 10 chances in the field without an error, his work is generally regarded as one of the features of the game.

Often, if he makes three or four sensational plays, only to fall down on an easy chance that plays no part in the result, he is acclaimed one of the fielding heroes of the day.

What about the umpire who in the course of the game must make any where from 50 to 150 rulings. Each ruling is a play from the viewpoint of the umpire.

Sitting on the New York bench the other day, prior to starting a game, Everett Scott, holder of the endurance record for continuous play, remarked to me:

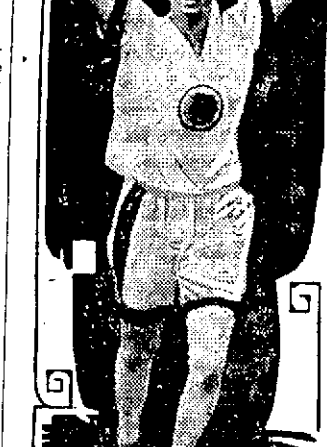

"How many plate decisions do you umpires figure you can miss and still call it a good day?"

"The more caused me to smile. Scott smiled as he put it to me.

"That's rather unusual," I answered, "but one of our umpires figures that it is 12 either way."

PHILADELPHIA MAIDEN IS ITALIAN CYCLIST WINS FRENCH CLASSIC

PARIS, July 21.—(By the Associated Press) Notwithstanding the rival attractions of Olympic swimming, tennis and gymnastics, 25,000 Parisians today assembled in the Parc des Princes stadium to see the end of the classic cycle race around France. Thousands also watched the passage of the racers through the suburbs. Of the 157 competitors who started from Paris on June 22, 50 finished, having ridden the 3,000 miles over mountains, valleys and plains. The winner was the Italian, Bottecchia, whose time was 226 hours, 25 minutes and 2 seconds. He had throughout every stage of the test.

Holding three national championships in the 30, 40 and 100-yard dash events for women, Frances Ruppert of Philadelphia is one of the nation's outstanding girl athletes.

And even more remarkable than her titles is the fact that she has run the 40-yard dash within one scant second of the championship time established by Loren Merriam, the Newark flash, who starred in the Olympics.

WEEKLY SCHEDULE OF PLAYGROUNDS

The playground schedule for the week has been announced as follows: Monday morning: Tennis instruction—Morey at Highland park, Moody at Shedd. The Nut Cracker

SWIMMING THE CHANNEL
Fishes in English channel are lifting ball-bearing voices in protest against intruding athletes of assorted sexes who aspire to damp honor of swimming from coast to coast on non-stop principles.

The water fish has no desire to mingle on terms of social or political equality with the land fish. Water fish may have his weaknesses. In certain matters he probably is very simple, if not downright dumb. We can give up no vast amount of respect for mental qualities of fish that is unable to distinguish a defect from an unbecoming hook from real article.

And yet we never heard of a fish that paid fifty snappers to see a couple of barroom graduates demonstrate the finer non-sensibilities of what is laughingly called manly art of self-defense.

Whoever named moist descendants of the original fish family knew plenty about dry land voters.

The human jelly fish, for example, you see him every day. In his snappy twined knickers, with hair all creased up like the Athletics' slump, stepping out with Simple Susies, and wearing an expression that is about as animated as a five-cent sack of salt.

The bullhead fish is another reason why reporters are sold to discrimination. You find him in Washington, flying the banner of the blitherers; you see him in the bleachers arguing that the Cubs of 1906 were better than any team that ever threw a series; you hear him in the theatre lobby chirping that the drama died when Booth was caught off second.

The bullhead fish stands high in his own esteem and his opinions on heavy matters are highly valued by himself.

All the cowbirds aren't bopping about in murky seas, either. We have yet to watch the Zyzzyva boys wrestle without feeling that nature held out on the whole family. A little touching up with a fin here and a fin there, and a tail where this usually goes, and the Zibby boys—or any other fat wrestler for that matter—would easily make the grade.

And somehow or other old Jess Willard always reminded us of a catfish. Maybe it was because catfish are poor fighters. And when they do put up a fight it's terrible to watch.

MISS WILLS' DAD WIRES HE'S PROUD OF HER VICTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21.—A telegram of congratulations was sent to Helen Wills by her father, Dr. C. A. Wills of Berkeley, when he received news of her victory over Mlle. Valasto.

"To be in five competitions in her first trip abroad, finalist in one and victor in three is pretty good," was the comment of the father of the new women's Olympic tennis champion.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Ninety-nine out of every hundred girls who go to New York for careers return home beaten and crestfallen. The comedy-drama of a girl who won because she played a venture-some hand is "Bluff," which opened a Square theatre yesterday. Her experience, from an uneventful life to a career crowded with adventures and romance, is full of interest. This is a Paramount, and on the same bill is an F. B. O. Production, "Untamed Youth."

Earthquakes, floods, typhoons and other acts of Providence can be used in moving pictures to give drama a physical punch that never can have on the stage. A cyclone is used in the picture, and it provides only one of the many thrills which are to be found before the film fades out. The Merrimack Square is noted for its comfort and its coolness.

On Time, the Richard Talmadge picture that opens at Loew's Rialto today, is an exceptionally vivid melodrama of startling incidents and decidedly weird action which verges at times into unvarnished farce. It deals with the uncertain and much-crossed road to success of Harry Willis, a young man of pluck and ambition, as played by Dick Talmadge. Naturally there is a girl the same age, at the beginning and at the end of the young man's adventures. An unscrupulous dealer in art objects, with an eye to the beautiful young lady, does his utmost to put the skills under the hero's ambitions—and almost succeeds. Because the young man has thrown away as a jinx a strange Chinese idol which the young lady has given him as a token of good luck when he started out to find success, the art dealer sets the boss of Chinatown against him by accusing him of willfully losing the idol which they look upon as sacred. In the unfolding of thrilling events there is

COBB MAY SMASH STRING RECORD

DETROIT, July 21.—(By Associated Press)—Ty Cobb, the Detroit manager, has accumulated more individual records than any player who has performed in the major leagues and is still at it. During 19 years in the American league Cobb carved his name as one of the immortals of baseball and when he surpassed Hans Wagner's record of having batted .300 or better for 17 consecutive seasons (Cobb's mark now is 15) little more was expected of the Georgia peach.

The wear and tear of 19 campaigns in the major leagues is supposed to slow up a player beyond the point of record-breaking ability. In fact, the majority of players disappear from the big leagues long before that time. With all the laurels he has won and making new statistics, Cobb is on his way to another mark that has been on the books for several years—the consecutive years in which a player has made 200 or more hits in a season.

The capture of the girl by the Chinamen and a sensational rescue in their den where the hero fights single handed against the entire tong. And, there are other thrilling adventures for the hero before he reaches the coveted goal of success; such as unquenchable experience with an insane doctor who, but for a sensational escape, would have used the young man as a subject for the transfer of a gorilla's brains to a human being.

"The Virginia Queen," with Marjorie Daw and Jack Perrin, a century comedy and the second round of the new "Fighting Blood" series are the other pictures on the bill as well as a Fox News.

COMMODORE BALLROOM

There will be check dancing tonight at the Commodore ballroom with Miner-Doyle's orchestra furnishing the music. The admission is 10 cents.

For the past several weeks Tuesday and Thursday evenings have been banner nights at the Commodore ballroom and large crowds have been in attendance. The reason, perhaps in one sense of the word has been the attraction, and the attraction is "Mal" Hallett and his celebrated orchestra. In directing the orchestra he is working every minute. Hurry and get two features which Hallett insists on and the dance music is always of the highest order. Check dancing will be in order with the small admission of 10 cents being charged.

Wednesday will be "Old Times" night with plenty of old dance favorites included in the program. Miner-Doyle's troupe will furnish music for dancing. Admission is 10 cents.

When a 22½ volt B battery drops below 17 volts it may be considered useless.

COPY OLD BUILDINGS ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Buildings of the type of a thousand years ago, and more, are rising on the University of Michigan campus here as the first structures to house the Michigan Law school become an actuality.

Walls of Gothic type copied from ancient structures in Picardy and Champagne, or certain famous cathedrals in England, are being reared here by new world workmen who, instead of following the hand chisel work of early craftsmen, are making dexterous use of the numberless facilities of the age of electricity and the trip-hammer.

The Michigan Law school is an attempt by a donor whose identity is kept secret, to environ the graduate and the advanced law student here with such surroundings that he will not hurry on to the ranks of practicing attorneys until he has delved widely and profoundly into the legal understanding and traditions of the profession.

Within the partially completed buildings is a hall destined to be, for a time at least, the show place of the club. It is more than 100 feet long, 50 feet wide at the beginning of the oak beamed roof and about that distance in width. It will be the dining room of the club.

Light will enter through a series of stone tracery windows, the glass for these being brought from England. The roof viewed from the inside will be a succession of Gothic arches, supporting oak cross beams, those in turn supporting roofboards of solid oak. Above these will be a false roof of pine, covered with a two-inch "quilt" of seaweed upon which will be laid the final roof of hard lead. This roof, declare the workmen, with the possible exception of bolts and seaweed, is an exact reproduction of many thousand-year-old roofs through Picardy, Champagne and England.

In general the rest of the building will be of a Gothic type of about 1000 years later than the period of the dining hall. The whole structure is a gathering of materials principally from Wales and England.

SOOTHORON NOW IN SENIOR LEAGUE

By N.E.A. Service
ST. LOUIS, July 21.—Pitcher Allan Sothoron, who failed in the American league with the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, is finding the going rather smooth in the National.

Sothoron was resurrected by Manager Ebbetts of the St. Louis Cardinals after being dropped from the American league ranks.

With the Cardinals Sothoron is pitching fine. He has been a narrow margin.

Sothoron, always the possessor of much natural ability, failed in the American largely because of his inability to field. He was practically buried out of the league.

OLYMPIC YACHTSMEN START COMPETITION

HAYRE, France, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Yachtsmen of 11 nations are seeking Olympic honors in their sixth day series of races which start today. A speedy array of six and eight metre crafts will compete.

The United States is not entered in the sailing competition but Cuba and Argentina represent the western hemisphere.

Yachting counts on the same point basis as the other Olympic sports, the winner getting ten points and the second five.

JUNIOR TWILIGHT LEAGUE SCHEDULE

The schedule of the Junior Twilight league for the week is as follows: Monday, July 21.—Pawtucket Blues vs. Mysteries.

Tuesday, July 22.—Buffaloes vs. Troquois.

Thursday, July 24.—P. A. C. vs. Victrolas.

Friday, July 25.—Emeralds vs. St. Joseph Cadets.

All games will be played on the North common. Games start promptly at 6:15.

COMPLETE DRAFT OF NEW FEDERAL CONTRACT

WASHINGTON.—(By the Associated Press)—Officials working under the direction of the budget bureau, have practically completed the draft of a new federal contract for submission to congress at the next session to supplant 224 contract laws now on the books and make the whole system uniform.

The new contract has grown up from efforts of the budget bureau to standardize and co-ordinate federal activities such as leasing, purchasing or selling and for construction work.

In line with this campaign, the budget specifications board has issued more than 240 masters' specifications and has nearly covered the field of government purchases. Director Lord insisted that operations of these specifications standards ultimately will mean many millions in savings to the federal government in supplies it must purchase.

For certain classes of materials and supplies there have been almost as many different specifications as there were federal purchasing agencies, but now the government will no longer pay for some decoration on a piece of furniture or a round corner on a piece of hardware.

The whimsicalities and idiosyncrasies of particular federal officers, Director Lord said, will have no further weight in the kind of furniture or letter heads or water coolers or soap they have supplied to them by the government.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, July 21.—One of America's most talented artists has his studio in a barber shop in Chatham Square, down where the Bowery begins and Chinatown peers on a modern world.

He paints black eyes, enameling discolored optics in a fashion so perfect that only Mother Nature would know the difference.

For 23 years he has been etching the effects of hawls off the faces of humanity.

He speaks with the dignity and finality of an artist. "The days of using leeches to draw discolored blood from a black and blue spot are gone," he says. "Steak is good, but too expensive to waste foolishly. So we have abandoned that method of erasing the effects of physical arguments. Herbs I use, sometimes, but always I finish with my paints. I can make the darkest blue the most natural pink you ever saw."

Down in the section where this artist keeps his brushes, fists are used far more frequently than courts of justice to settle petty grievances. He has had plenty of practice.

Negroes and bronzed Chinamen are models for the painter's brush, too. No matter what color nature has given us, it seems a "sock in the jaw" as they term it in Chatham, produces a rainbow hue.

And not all the artist's customers are from the Bowery. Several famous men of the world, including actors—and once or twice an actress—have journeyed downtown to have a pastel operation performed on their physiognomy.

Once when I was the victim of a rich purple decoration on a cheekbone, it was necessary for me to go to a wedding. An actor, with materials from his make-up kit, calmed the area.

It looked dandy, until we reached the altar. Then the camouflage washed away in a river of perspiration. Once more the purple shone in all its glaring glory.

But the work of the artist of Chatham Square is constant.

A famous actor and his wife recently separated. She went to the mountains. He went abroad.

Their country estate was turned over to the caretakers, an ancient man and his wife.

They rented the estate to some New Yorkers anxious for a taste of country living.

But the caretakers rented out the servant quarters to the city folk and retained the quarters of their master for their own.

The wife of the caretaker has taken on airs. She now wears a gold band about her head, sleeps late in the morning—and even refuses to cook meals. She is being a "lady," she says, for the first time in her life.

The coolest spot in New York is a gap between the Hermitage hotel and Stanley theatre on Seventh avenue between 41st and 42nd streets.

It is here the Stage Door John awaits their Pöbles girls.

For some unexplained reason there is ever a rush of air between the buildings and the young bloods have adopted it as their trying place.

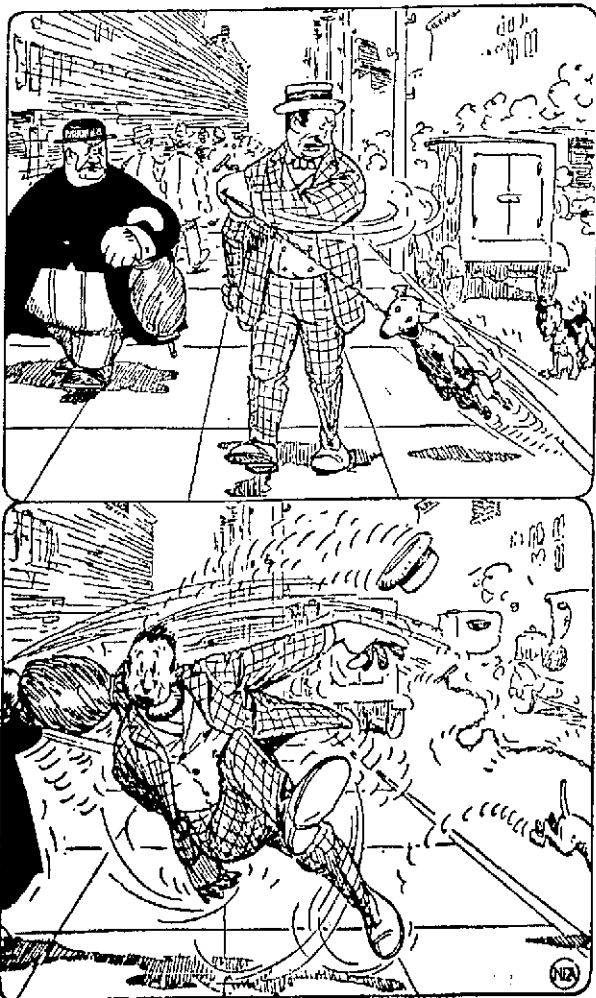

By the way, there is a delicate distinction among young men who await show girls.

A Stage Door John is one who is sure his girl will meet him, and awaits her coming a block or so away from the stage door.

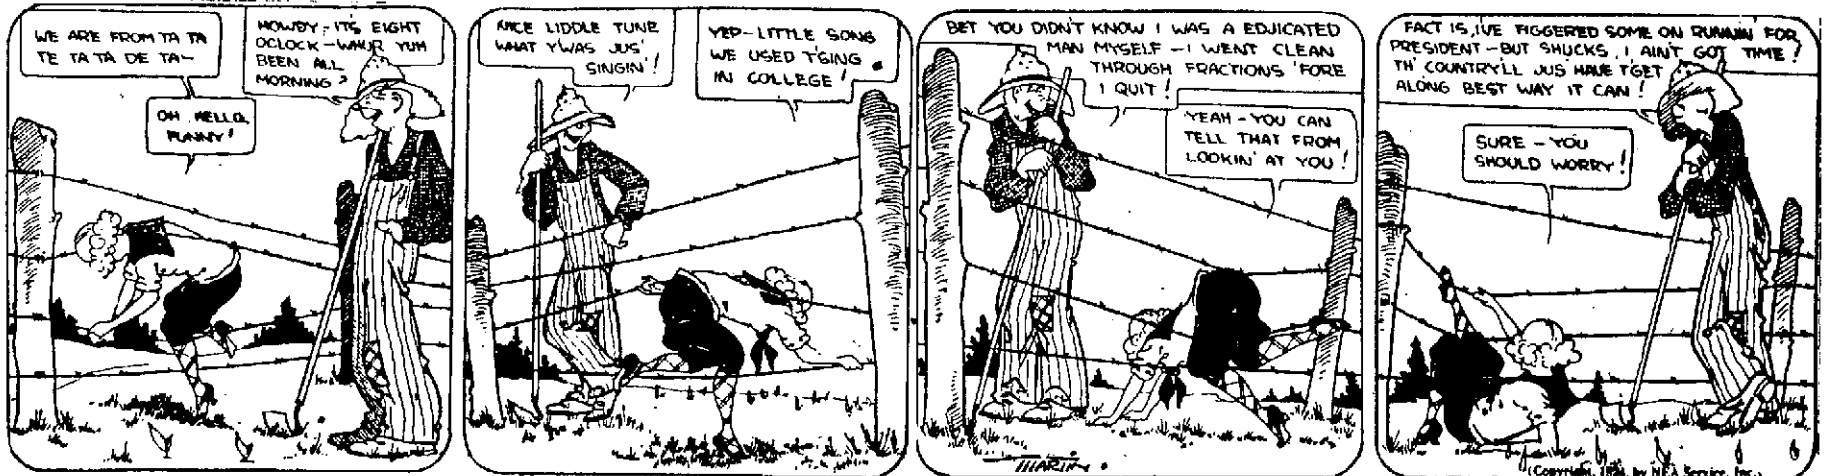

A Stage Door Johnnie, the diminutive of his husky and more worldly brother, nestles as near the stage door as its guardian will permit, for his chance to play cavalier to his footlight favorite.

Chorus girls go home alone these nights.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Alleged Drunken Autoists
Arrested in Chelmsford
Deny "Soft" Impeachment

Fellow Who Took Brother-
in-Law's Auto Arraigned
Today—Other Cases

Joseph Denault of Austin street, in district court this morning, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with operating an automobile in Chelmsford yesterday while he was under the influence of liquor, while his companion, Warren B. Ashton of Hall street, entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness. Both were continued, under bonds, until July 28.

Denault and Ashton were arrested by Officer James Gaskin in the suburb after the machine which Denault is alleged to have been driving, crashed into an electric car in North Chelmsford, near the center. Following the collision, Denault and Ashton were treated for minor injuries, after which they were brought to Lowell and booked on the charges named above.

Took Brother-in-Law's Auto

Charles Apostolakis was fined $20 for operating an automobile without a license, and $20 for operating without a certificate of registration. He was arrested in Bridge street, near Third, shortly after midnight last night when Officer Patrick Leavitt commandeered a machine in the square and pursued him that far before apprehending him. Officer Leavitt's alertness was due to the fact that Lambrose E. Lazarakis of Eighteenth street, a brother-in-law of Apostolakis, had previously reported to headquarters that his coupe had been appropriated.

From the description given, Officer Leavitt recognized the car Apostolakis was driving as the missing machine, and promptly followed him as far as Third street. In court this morning, defendant admitted that he never had a license or registration to operate.

Operating While Drunk

George C. Swanson of Watertown paid a fine of $25 for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Saturday night by Officers Edward Hayes and Francis O'Leighin as he was proceeding down Merrimack street in a zigzag course. At Palmer street he was accosted by the officers and booked for driving while drunk. Three companions, Frederick C. Union, Mack MacPhee and Alexander MacPhee were arrested for drunkenness. Their cases were placed on file today.

A $25 fine for a similar offense was meted out to William Goldberg of Lawrence, who was arrested in Hillier last night by State Motorcyclist Officer William Coleman. The latter testified on the witness stand that Goldberg was in a pugnacious mood when notified that he was operating at an estimated speed of 40 miles an hour.

Fined $15 For Larceny

Thomas J. Dalton, charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a motorometer valued at $13, was fined $15 on the latter count, while the drunkenness complaint was filed. Wilfrid Dupont, owner of the machine from which the motorometer was taken, stated his car was parked in Alken street last night when the theft was committed. Dalton excused himself on the ground that he was drunk and said that he didn't remember removing the motorometer from the car.

A fine of $50 was imposed on John Tsakras when he was adjudged guilty of operating a motor vehicle after his license had been revoked. The case dated back several months.

A group of Boston young men, on an old complaint charging them with disturbing the peace in Billerica, were allowed to go after their cases had been placed on file. When arrested more than a month ago they gave their names as follows: James J. Neary, Francis J. King, William Coyne, Robert Booth, Edward McMullen, James E. Murphy, Michael J. Lavallee, William J. Camoron, and Roland McDonald.

Patrolman Arthur Drewett testified that James McDonald abused his wife while in a drunken condition and made her life miserable by his general misconduct. Judge Pickman found McDonald guilty of drunkenness and imposed a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction with the proviso that he contribute $5 weekly to his wife's support.

A suspended sentence of one month in the house of correction was imposed on John Corrigan for drunkenness.

Joseph Willette was found guilty of illegally selling liquor and was fined $100.

Flrmin Dupre, maintaining a liquor nuisance, was continued to August.

Mary Coby, illegal sale, was allowed to enter a plea of poverty, and the case was placed on file.

John Hallowood, operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued to August 6.

An old case of threatening, preferred against Albert Gendreau, was put over to next Friday.

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN WOODS

It is believed that positive identification of the body of a man said to be James P. Stamos of Suffolk street, this city, will be established when John Matthes, a close friend of Stamos, returns from Salem, whither he went this morning following the report that the body of an alleged suicide, answering the description of Stamos, had been found in the woods near that town yesterday.

The discovery of the dead body was made by a group of children playing in the vicinity yesterday morning. A revolver was found by his side, while in his clothing were cards bearing the names of James P. Stamos and John J. Lazarakis of Lowell. With these clues to work on, the Salem police notified Lowell, and police officers here were instructed to investigate.

Satisfied that the dead man was not Lazarakis, who absconded with a large amount of his countrymen's money some time ago, the investigation then centered about Stamos. It was finally learned from Matthes that Stamos left Lowell on the morning of July 3 to look for work out-of-town. When he did not return for several days, it was thought that he had gone to the home of friends in Suncook, N. H. He has no relatives in this country.

Lowell Batterymen Have Many Visitors

of Salem made up the remainder of the national guard units now in camp. Episcopal services were held yesterday morning at 8.45 o'clock in the regimental area by Capt. Wells M. Putridge of Braintree, who also held a general, non-sectarian service at 3.30 p. m. The Catholics attended the regular camp mass in the chapel back of the C.M.T.C. area.

Batterymen and the rest of the field outfits in the 102nd artillery which arrived in camp Saturday noon in three special trains, one of which went through Lowell, have solved the horse problem which had vexed both it and the 101st field artillery, which checked out of Devens Saturday. Each outfit had its own guns, caissons, harnesses and other equipment, but each had only half the requisite number of horses. The two regiments pooled their supply of four-legged friends. The 101st drove its batteries down to the railroad, where it unharnessed and left the horses picketed. As the 102nd came in, it harnessed up its own guns and drove the horses back to camp for another two weeks of hard labor. The 102nd took over the same barracks that the 101st used.

The first artillery brigade headquarters will remain in camp one week with the Lowell batteries and the other units in the 102nd field artillery regiment.

Batterymen started stiff training this morning, with a lot of work scheduled ahead. First call was at 6.20 a. m., reveille at 6.30, and first call for drill at 6.40. After breakfast there was drill until noon—four solid hours of it. This afternoon the men were busy from 1 o'clock until 5. This will be the regulation program throughout the 15-day encampment, except that some nights there will be study periods in addition to the day's work.

Reserve Officers in Camp

Reserve officers from all over New England arrived in camp yesterday for their annual 15-days' encampment. Those who came belong to the 94th division, from Massachusetts; the 57th, from Maine; Vermont and New Hampshire; and the 76th, from Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Lowell and neighboring towns sent several reservists in the 94th division encampment. Among those reporting for duty yesterday were: Lieut.-Col. Charles A. Hanlett of Billerica, attached to headquarters; Major James J. Powers of Lowell, attached to the 10th Infantry; Lieut. John J. Hogan, attached to the 36th Infantry.

The daily schedule for the reservists will begin at 6.45 a. m., with calisthenics and the program call for tactics, ranges, lectures on military history and field combat work of various sorts. Regular army troops from the 5th and 13th Infantry will be used in certain of the exercises and officers from the regulars will serve as instructors.

Barracks in the base hospital area are providing sleeping quarters for the reserve officers at present. Later, the "C.M.T.C." will move in to take their places. The field officers are enjoying the luxury of the individual rooms which have been assigned to them.

The Sun was informed this morning by First Army corps headquarters, U.S.A., Boston harbor, that 21 Lowell boys have been enrolled to take up the citizens' military training programs that are to start at Camp Devens on August 2. The entire month will be taken up in this work. Army headquarters are pleased with Lowell's showing in the campaign to secure its quota.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

SWIMMING CLASSES AT RANDOLPH BLAZE LOCAL PLAYGROUNDS

A feature of the playground work being conducted on 14 local playgrounds this summer, in the opinion of Superintendent of Parks John W. Kernan, are the swimming classes at the South Common pool.

Six classes in swimming are conducted at the pool daily by instructor Leo Wholley, and the daily registration varies from several hundred to nearly a thousand, depending a great deal upon weather conditions.

The South Common pool is ideal for swimming instruction for the little tots, varying in depth from six inches at one end to two feet at the other.

The classes are from 9 to 11.15 a. m. and from 2 to 4.30 p. m., and during this period, on a warm day, the pond is filled with youngsters mastering the art of keeping themselves afloat. Similar classes were conducted last year by Mr. Wholley and were very successful, several hundred boys and girls learning to swim. This year's classes bid fair to outnumber last year's, and Mr. Kernan estimates that at least 600 children will have been taught to swim before the playground season is brought to its conclusion in August.

Knowledge of swimming, said Mr. Kernan this morning, is very necessary in a city such as Lowell where the tenement districts are lined with deep canals and rivers. In the heat of summer these waterways offer a solution to perspiring youth and many unable to swim are drowned when they play about the water in an attempt to cool off.

The playgrounds, he continued, keep many of the children away from this danger, and hundreds of boys and girls who would not attend the playgrounds were not for the opportunity to play in the South common pool, attend and learn how to care for themselves in the water.

SHE IS A BLACKSMITH!

It takes muscle to be a blacksmith. But Mrs. George Byus of Oklahoma City, now a full partner in her husband's business, has plenty. She got it, she says, washing and keeping house for a husband and family of nine. All nine of the children were orphans she and her husband adopted. Now, at 50, since the boys and girls are all married, she has taken up her work at the forge. She does every kind of work her husband does except the actual shoeing of horses. "When it comes to nailing them on—well, I let George do it," she says. "I've never got over being afraid I might get kicked."

Rhode Island Executive Sends Communication to Gov.

Cox on Senators' Arrest

PROVIDENCE, July 21.—Governor William S. Flynn today sent to Governor Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts a communication understood to be a protest against the arrest by Massachusetts constabulary Saturday night of a group of Rhode Island officials.

"I am forwarding to Governor Cox of Massachusetts a communication which is self-explanatory," Governor Flynn said. "This communication relates to the outrageous action of the state police of Massachusetts, who, with the knowledge of the identity of mission as captain in the eleventh corps quartermaster department. Capt. Harrington will begin his tour of duty tomorrow."

The condition of Congressman John Jacob Rogers continues to improve at the Lowell General hospital, following a hurried operation for appendicitis and his return home is expected within a few days.

GUILTY PLEA BY LEOPOLD-LOEB

Rich Chicago Youths Throw Themselves Upon Mercy of Court—Advised They Are Liable to "Extreme Penalty" for Dastardly Crime

CHICAGO, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—After a plea of guilty today, the fate of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, indicted for the kidnapping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks, rests with "the mercy of the court."

A plea of guilty was made in court by Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the boys, and affirmed by them after they had been "fully warned by the court of the consequences of this plea."

The degree of punishment, which may vary from an indeterminate prison sentence, through life sentence, in the penitentiary, incarceration in an asylum, or death, will be determined after a hearing which is to start at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

In entering the plea of guilty, Attorney Darrow said that the defense admitted the correctness of the facts "substantially as printed in the newspapers."

He asked permission of the court, however, to "offer evidence as to the mental condition of these young men and the degree of responsibility."

The defense was willing to submit

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—Despite reports that his resignation as director of public safety will be requested by Mayor Kendrick unless he discontinued the re-distributing of police stations, Brig. Gen. Snodgrass D. Butler issued orders today for the biggest police shakeup since he assumed the office last June. More than 300 patrolmen and twenty street sergeants, attached to central districts, whom the director declared had "double-crossed" their lieutenants, will be transferred to outlying sections.

BLOCK AND FALL
UNUSUAL FUNERAL

ANSONIA, Conn., July 21.—Mrs. Catherine Bristol, whose funeral was held here yesterday, weighed in excess of 600 pounds and was buried in a casket weighing 430 pounds, the largest ever used in the state, according to the undertaker who supervised the burial. The woman's death occurred in the third story and a block and fall was used in lowering the casket from the room.

Ten men acting as pall bearers were obliged to rest twice during the short journey to the grave. Mrs. Bristol's death, physicians say, was caused by her increasing weight.

FIRPO'S PASSPORTS ALLEGED FAULTY

NEW YORK, July 21.—Julius Axel Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, a woman named Blanca Lourdes, listed as the fighter's stenographer, and two other members of his party were held by immigration authorities upon arrival here today, on the ground that their passports had been insufficiently vased.

Firpo and his three companions, who arrived on the steamer American Legion were ordered sent to Ellis Island pending further investigation. In addition to the boxer and the Lourdes, those detained were Edward Carbone, Firpo's secretary and Miguel Ferns, a sparring partner.

Julio Baquerlan, a trainer, Juan Homs and Umberto Tambouris, friends of the heavyweights, who were the other members of the party, were allowed to land. The decision to hold the four was made after Firpo's party had been questioned about the vessel by the immigration authorities. The Lourdes woman held a ticket for Cuba. She occupied a stateroom adjoining the fighter's, and was listed as his stenographer. It was understood the immigration officers were communicating with Cuban officials to determine whether she had any friends there.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—A cotton crop of 11,034,000, equivalent to 500 pound bales, this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture in its first semi-monthly report.

The forecast was based on the condition of the crop of July 16, which was 63.5 per cent of normal, as compared with 71.2 per cent on June 26th this year, from which the crop was forecast early this month at 12,141,000 bales.

Jumps to High Price

NEW YORK, July 21.—Cotton jumped 130 to 200 points in the local market today on publication of the government forecast. October advanced to 27.65, above which figure further trading was prohibited under the rules of the exchange. Buying was very heavy.

FIVE CARS DERAILED

His Campaign Ground

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Organization of two committees which will play a vital part in the coming presidential campaign in engaging the attention of those who are directing the La Follette-Wheeler candidates. One committee, to be composed of 11 members, will have general charge of the campaign, while the other will handle finances. The campaign committee will have Representative Nelson of Wisconsin as chairman with headquarters in Chicago, where he now is directing campaign activities. Five members will be selected by Senators La Follette and Wheeler and the others will represent the conference for progressive political action, which endorsed the candidates of both. The finance committee will be made up of two sections—one representing La Follette and Wheeler, the other the conference. Indications are that Atty. Gen. Ely of Wisconsin will head the one section, and that Alexander Kahn and Henry Rosenfeld of New York will be in charge of the other.

Those in charge of the campaign are generally of the opinion that at least two million dollars will be needed to finance all of the organization work and campaign activities and that the money should be raised through small voluntary contributions.

At present it is planned to make a vigorous appeal for votes in the east in the early stages of the campaign. Senator La Follette will probably speak in New York city and perhaps at one or two other points east of Chicago. Tentative plans also call for an excursion by Senator Wheeler of Massachusetts, industrial sections of New England, and such states as Pennsylvania and Ohio before he swings westward on an extensive speech-making tour.

Supreme Court Justice Burr of New York Denies Requested Order

NEW YORK, July 21.—Supreme Court Justice Burr today denied a motion of Eamonn De Valera and Stephen O'Mara, as trustees of $2,500,000 received here from the sale of Irish Republic bonds, for an order enjoining the Irish Free State from proceeding with the trial of a suit for that amount before the high court of justice in Ireland.

"This court has no power to restrain the high court of justice in Ireland from proceeding with the trial of the action there pending," said Justice Burr. "It has no power and, being mindful of the comity required, ought not to attempt to tamper with the jurisdiction of the high court of justice in Ireland."

The trial of the suit in Ireland is scheduled to start tomorrow.

SHAMEEN STRIKE TO MEET SPEEDY END

CANTON, China, July 19.—(By the Associated Press).—Residents of Shameen, the foreign quarter, whose domestic and commercial life has been paralyzed by a strike of Chinese employees, at a meeting late yesterday voted unanimously to re-employ the strikers if the walkout were called off. The strike was called in protest against recent orders requiring among other things that Chinese employed on the island later than 9 p. m. obtain passports, with photographs attached, for display to the authorities on entering or leaving the quarter after that hour.

The Shameen residents voted 100 to 40 to grant the strikers pay for the time they have been out.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

William M. Barrett was found probably guilty of perjury by Judge Pickman in district court this morning, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the grand jury in September.

Barrett's arrest on the perjury charge was brought about when he offered to go bail for a defendant some time ago. He is alleged to have erroneously sworn to the ownership of a piece of real estate with which he had no connection.

The captains of waiters, discharged by the hotel after the raid, pleaded guilty to possessing liquor. Sentence was deferred.

SARGENT SCHOOL HEAD PASSES AWAY

PETERBORO, N. H., July 21.—Dr. Dudley A. Sargent of Cambridge, Mass., a national authority on physical education and the head of a school that bears his name, died here today. He was widely known as the inventor of modern gymnasium apparatus, and of list of speed, strength and endurance for men, and women athletes. Dr. Sargent was 75 years old.

Dr. Sargent died at the Sargent camp here, of which he was president. He had come there several days ago to recuperate from an illness of long standing. The body will be taken to Cambridge, Mass., for funeral services, and burial will be at Belmont, Mass., Dr. Sargent's birthplace.

Dr. Sargent for 40 years was director of gymnasium activities at Harvard University and was in connection with this office that he devoted most of the modern gymnasium apparatus used in this country. His apparatus and formula for testing strength and endurance was applied to undergraduates at Harvard and at Radcliffe.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AWARD CONTRACTS

The Middlesex County commissioners met at the Bortham street courthouse today to open bids on proposals to do decorating at the training school at North Chelmsford and at the courthouse. The Lowell Wall Paper Co., on bids of $1495.65 for the school job and $1040.20 for the courthouse, was awarded both contracts.

Other bids received were the following:

James L. Ryan, Lowell, school, $3251; courthouse, $1522.

E. C. Pearson & Co., Lowell, school, $2565; courthouse, $1752.

Martin Feeley, Cambridge, school, $2190; courthouse, $1135.

There were no hearings scheduled and the meeting adjourned with the awarding of the contracts.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR
DEATH OF LINEMAN

In an inquest report submitted to the clerk of court by Judge Pickman today, the Lowell Electric Light Corporation is absolved of all blame in connection with the death of J. Joseph Finnegan, who was electrocuted while at work on one of the company's poles at Marginal street and Alden avenue on the morning of June 22. The report finds that "death was not due to criminal negligence on the part of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation, or any of its agents."

MORE MONEY WANTED FOR NEW FIRE HOUSE

An additional appropriation of $3000 will be necessary for the completion of the Oaklands fire house and an order for this amount will be submitted to the city council at a future meeting, according to Supt. Moynahan of the buildings department.

The additional appropriation is necessary owing to the fact that an insufficient allowance was made for grading when the appropriation of $35,000 was made. At the present time there is a balance of $1495, applicable to grading while it is estimated that the work will cost about $4000.

The fire house proper is practically complete and will be ready for occupancy as soon as the grading is finished. The street department will lay edgework about the property and the grading work will be done on contract.

The apparatus to be installed at the new fire house will be one of the White triple-combination pumping engines which were ordered some time ago. This apparatus is rapidly nearing completion at the Lawrence plant and will be ready for delivery within a month at the most.

YANKEE NET STARS WIN
DOUBLES TITLE

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—The United States has made a clean sweep of the five Olympic tennis titles. Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter defeating Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon of France in the men's doubles, and R. Norris Williams II and Mrs. George Wightman winning the mixed doubles title from their American rivals, Vincent Richards and Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup in the two last final matches today.

The American team rolled up 55 points, which included five first place and one second place, while its nearest rival, France, had a total of only 23 points.

STAGE ALL SET FOR
CHILDREN'S OUTING

Rotarians today completed arrangements for tomorrow's monster outing, when more than 1000 children will be guests of high-society clubmen at an all-day picnic at Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro. It will be the largest outing of its kind ever conducted by the Rotary club. If the weather is bad, the outing will be held on the following day.

The arrangements for transporting the children to and from the city were decided upon this morning, when Rotarian committees on various entertainment programs, rallied at the Dutton street quarters of the Boys' club for final discussions.

It was decided that owing to the large increase in the number of children this year, it will be necessary to limit this outing to Rotarians and their families. Rotarians will wear badges. A service car will follow the parade, and if any motor vehicle needs attention, it will be readily given. Major Walter R. Jones will have charge of the "unloading" at the picnic grounds.

There are separate committees gathering handling transportation from each of the following institutions: Ayer home, Pawtucket street; French-American orphanage, Pawtucket street; St. Peter's orphanage, Stevens street; Children's home, back Central street; and Day Nursery, 57 First street.

The start will be made from the Ayer home at 10:30 a. m., and there will be a parade through the principal streets of the city, down Merrimack, Central, Middlesex, Thornehill, Dutton to Merrimack, where the big start will be made for Tyngsboro.

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press). With ceremonies elaborated by many centuries of usage, nearly 3000 American and Canadian lawyers today were welcomed to England in ancient Westminster Hall.

Striking the keynote of the visiting delegates' pleasure over the cordiality of their welcome, Senator Hughes of the United States pointed out that he and his fellow lawyers of the United States came to England rejoicing in the amity which had become a fixed habit of two peoples intent upon co-operation in the interest of peace.

On the platform stood wigged and robed rows of king's counsels and delegations of Canadian and American lawyers.

Autopsy Reveals Severe
Gash From Sabre Such as

TEHRAN, Persia, July 20 (By the Associated Press).—Developments in the investigation into the killing of Robert Imbrie, American vice consul, held to indicate that parts at least of the Persian government's protective forces failed in their duty in defending his life when he and Melvin Seymour, another American, were attacked by a fanatic mob last Friday, have caused anxiety here and the diplomatic body is addressing a serious note to the Persian government, it was stated today.

The assault occurred in a crowded thoroughfare and although it is declared that numbers of armed police and soldiers were present, it does not appear that a shot was fired in defense of the victims. It is even alleged that soldiers formed a part of the mob. The autopsy on the body of Mr. Imbrie confirmed the report that there was a sabre cut on his head, and those acquainted with the equipment of the defensive forces say that only the military police carry sabres.

The majlis, the Persian parliament, in open session, expressed its sorrow and profound horror at the crime and urged the government to pursue the investigation relentlessly. Many arrests have been made among civilians.

TRANSFORMER STATION

AMERICA BOASTS CRACK AVIATORS, BUT FAR BEHIND WITH AIR FORCES

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
N.E.A. Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 21.—At record breaking, American navy aviators lead the world.

Forty-two air records are officially recognized. Twenty of them are held by United States naval flyers.

Both the army's and the navy's aerial equipments have been severely criticized. It's denied that they represent fair values for what they cost. Men like General Patrick and Rear-Admiral Moffett, respective heads of the two branches' aviation services, speak of the planes as mostly war-built and too slow for today.

Nevertheless, the navy's showing in the matter of records is wonderful. Experts give credit to men rather than to their machines.

The United States navy has 350 planes, a personnel of 3595; the army 460 planes and 10,300 personnel.

Other countries group their army and navy services together.

France has 1250 planes, personnel 33,500; Britain 600 planes, personnel 29,282; Japan 350 planes, personnel 3100; Italy 250 planes built and 750 building, personnel 6500.

Some authorities say that of America's combined army and navy planes—$10 in all—not more than 100 are serviceable.

Men Good, But Few

However, an airplane shortage is less serious than a shortage in fighting ships. Planes can be built faster, or adapted from commercial uses. The shortage is serious rather in that it implies a lack of trained men and the record indicates that America's personnel, man for man, is at least as good as any in the world.

Of America's deficiencies in the matter of naval aircraft carriers and tenders, there's no difference of opinion among experts.

For the planes there's the old converted collier Langley of 12,700 tons; for the dirigibles the Wright, also old and slow—11,000 tons. In addition, two old battle cruisers, the Lexington and Saratoga, fast boats of 35,236 tons each, are being converted as aircraft carriers, but at the present rate this work will not be finished under three or four years.

"The Langley," said Admiral R. E. Conant in his report on the Culebra maneuvers this year, "was supposed to carry 58 planes but actually had only six, which, however, served good purpose, considering their number and capabilities, and the Langley's own characteristics."

Aside from regular carriers, battleships and cruisers also now launch planes from catapaults. Of their effectiveness at the Culebra maneuvers Admiral Conant said:

"The Atlantic squadron had 27 seaplanes which were most successful working from a base, catapaults not working well on ships. Therefore the Langley was the only ship to send up planes."

"Arresting gear, deck lighting and the material requirements to permit night flying should be developed. Aircraft carriers should have separate radio receiving rooms in order that planes in the air may be communicated with efficiently while radio work with other units is going on. "Anti-aircraft batteries of the older ships are incomplete and this is the more serious because of the lack of aircraft carriers."

"The construction of the two carriers building should be expedited," Admiral Conant adds, "and it should be borne in mind that each will require the constant attendance of from three to six destroyers, which should be provided."

As compared with America's one completed plane carrier, Britain has 8, of a total of 18,130 tons, with 3 more building, representing another 55,300 tons. Japan is building 2, of 64,400 total tons.

Both British and Japanese battleships and cruisers of all classes of course carry planes.

Just Beginning

Aviation in all countries is admittedly in a formative stage.

The flyers' vital importance is recognized, as scouts and gun spotters, and to some extent for actual attacks on fighting ships, although, with the best possible luck, an aerial bomber can count on no better than 1 hit in 25, according to a recent navy bulletin—and as many as five such hits probably would not sink a modern battleship.

However, important as aviation is conceded to be, the best authorities insist it gives no promise of supplanting surface fleets.

"The field of aircraft over the sea," says M. H. McIntyre, a navy critic, "is wide already and will expand. They will scout, attack ships and stations with bombs and torpedoes and will greatly increase the gunnery efficiency of a fleet in the earlier stages of battle.

"But when America is considering warfare in defense of her rights, there is no way to attack the enemy than through the medium of ships first."

SIGNALS SHIFT AS SHIP GOES NORTH

By N.E.A. Service

HARTFORD, Conn., July 19.—Radio enthusiasts are mystified over the shift in radio signals of Donald R. MacMillan's "Hovea" in the Arctic from the east coast to the west.

It is the surprising feature of the amateur radio tests that have been conducted during the last year as the famous schooner sailed northward for further Arctic exploration.

While the vessel sailed up the coast of Greenland, Donald Mix, its radio operator, was in good two-way contact with amateurs in the eastern part of the United States. At a point farther north, however, the signals began to be picked up on the Pacific coast and the eastern amateurs lost contact with Mix.

This condition existed through all last winter, although at times amateurs at other points succeeded in picking up short messages from Mix. For nearly seven months reliable contact was maintained, while intermittent signals were received during the rest of the time.

With the approach of daylight in the Arctic signals from Mix have continued to fall off, except for an occasional "all's well." Contact is expected to be renewed soon when Mac-

Millan starts for home.

DEATHS

DELANEY—The many friends of Mrs. Amanda (Lambert) Delaney will be deeply shocked to learn of her death which occurred early yesterday morning at St. John's hospital after a brief illness. Mrs. Delaney was a widely known young woman in many circles and her death, coming when the future held so much promise for her, will cause sincere regret throughout the city and to her wide circle of friends. For the last four years she had resided in Cleveland, O., returning to her native city only a few weeks ago. She is survived by her husband, Lawrence F., two sons, Lawrence F. Jr., and an infant son; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Lambert; seven brothers, Connelton Maurice J. Lambert, Jr., George J., William J., Arthur J., Alfred J., Adolph J., and Victor J. Lambert; two sisters, Miss Sarah M. Lambert and Mrs. Ernest J. Landry and several nieces and nephews. She was a member of St. Anne's sodality of the Notre Dame de Lourdes church of Lowell. The body was removed to her home, 980 Middlesex street by Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

BYRNE—The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Catherine Byrne will regret to learn of her death which occurred last night at St. John's hospital. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception parish since coming to this city and was deeply loved in her home circle. She was loyal to her friends and they were legion. Besides her husband, Patrick J. Byrne, she leaves two daughters, Miss Mary A., and Miss Catherine V. Byrne; two sons, Patrick J. Jr., and Michael F., and one sister, Mary McFarlin of San Francisco, Calif. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception church. The body will be removed to her home, 66 Pleasant street, by Undertakers Higgins Bros.

O'CONNELL—There will be an anniversary high mass of requiem at the Immaculate Conception church, Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock for the repose of the souls of David and Isabella O'Connell.

Peggy Joyce appears here in something other than a "love role" for a change. She is shown at the Atlantic City beach welcoming the giant ball that is being pushed across the nation in the interest of Citizens Military Training Camps.

BRITISH-AMERICAN SOCIAL CLUB OUTING

The annual outing of the British-American Social club was held at Salem Willows and was attended by over a hundred members and invited guests.

The party made the trip from this city in auto trucks, leaving the Free church at 10 a. m. Following luncheon upon arrival at the Willows, a sports program was run off and valuable prizes distributed to winners of the various events. The sports committee consisted of Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. Tait and Mr. Clegg, the two latter acting as judges and W. S. Dawson as starter. Upon completion of the sports program, the members enjoyed themselves at the various amusement places and in bathing, returning to this city early in the evening.

Another outing of the club, for members only, will be held at Revere beach, August 9th.

FLEET LEAVES NEWPORT TO COVER HOMEWARD BOUND FLIERS

Sea Lanes Beneath Daring Airmen to Be Patrolled By Naval Vessels Under Rear Admiral MacGruder—Airmen Expected in Boston Within a Month

NEWPORT, R. I., July 21.—The navy today began its task of keeping watch below while the army world fliers soar over the Atlantic on the homeward leg of their journey. The cruiser Richmond, flagship of Rear Admiral Thomas MacGruder, commanding the light cruiser squadron, slipped out of this port at 5 a. m., the advance guard of about a dozen naval vessels. These will be stationed along the route of the aviators from England to Scotland, thence by way of the Orkney Islands, Iceland and Greenland to the bleak coast of Labrador, and onward across Newfoundland and Nova Scotia to home port at Boston.

Later this week the cruiser Milwaukee, sister ship of the Richmond, will sail from New York with officers of the army air service board. The destroyer flotilla now at Newport also will depart some time this week to assist in the work.

The Richmond will be joined in British waters by the cruiser Raleigh and two destroyers from the European squadron, and the four warships will guard the flight from England to the Orkney Islands and thence to Iceland. The Milwaukee will go to Halifax and then will distribute supplies to various points where the fliers are scheduled to stop. The destroyers will be strung out along the leg from Greenland to Labrador. By this method the navy department hopes to be in continuous touch by radio with the men who are making history in the air. The installation in England of sending and receiving apparatus on the flag plane will enable Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, to communicate at all times with Admiral MacGruder on the Richmond or with others of the war craft along the line.

If the latest schedule drawn up from the homing planes is carried out they will drop into the more or less sheltered waters of Indian Bay, Labrador, on August 17. Four days later they should reach Picton, N. S., and after a brief stop proceed to Boston and thence down the coast to Washington, to cross the continent, to complete their flight at its starting point in California.

TENANTS DRIVEN OUT BY EARLY MORNING FIRE

Five starting in a restaurant early Sunday morning extensively damaged the block at East Merrimack and Davidson streets owned by the Massachusetts Realty Co. and forced a number of tenants on upper floors to seek temporary shelter in the Memorial Auditorium and in the homes of neighbors.

When first discovered at 2:30 a. m. an alarm was sounded from Box 52. Patrolman Thomas J. Sherry aroused persons sleeping in upper tenements and directed them across the street to the Auditorium. They were about to return to their homes a half hour later on the sounding of the recall when the fire again broke out, this time in a blind attic, and spread so rapidly that first and second alarms were sent in by District Chief Sullivan from Box 8.

The fire burned fiercely in the attic and the entire building suffered a considerable water and smoke loss, particularly Brunelle's pharmacy, the grocery store of Peter E. Handley, the bootblack shop of Arthur Bannas and the fruit store of George Yavick. The restaurant where it is believed the fire originated is owned by Christmas Perikatos and Evangelos Manoles and was badly damaged.

ANNUAL LAWN PARTY WAS BIG SUCCESS

The annual lawn party of the Social Heart parish, held Saturday afternoon and evening, was a pronounced success, socially and financially. The midway attractions provided ample pleasure for old and young while the races for the children in the afternoon were a source of enjoyment both for the participants and the spectators.

As there are yet many outstanding tickets the drawing for the gate prize, a Westinghouse radio set, has been postponed until some future date. The set, a 5-tube single circuit affair provided the music during the afternoon and evening, concerts being received from Springfield.

The officers in general charge of the affair were: Manager, George Brennan, assistant manager, John Duggan; secretary, Miss Kathleen McLean; treasurer, Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I.

RUMANIAN PARTIES AGREE ON PROGRAM

BUCHAREST, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—After several months of negotiation, the two strongest opposition parties in the Rumanian parliament have finally reached agreement upon a common program. These parties are the Transylvanian nationalists, under Julius Maniu, and the peasants under Dr. Nicholas Lupu. While the new group, which will be known as the national peasants party, under the parliamentary leadership of Mr. Maniu, will control at present on the part of 25 per cent of the voting strength of the chamber of deputies, its strength in the country is enormously greater.

In an election that freely expressed the preferences of the voters, it is believed the nationalists would have an almost unanimous vote in the new territories of Transylvania, Bocoovina and the Banat, while the peasants could undoubtedly count on a substantial majority in the Old Kingdom and in Regensburg. In other words, the new "bloc" would probably have an overwhelming parliamentary majority, in spite of the fact that it would place the government of the country largely in the hands of Transylvanians.

The present liberal party government, however, representing as it does the financial and industrial interests of the country, and strongly supported by the crown, the Orthodox church and what is left of the old land-owning aristocracy, will be difficult to dislodge from office. Premier Bratianu has recently announced that the government has no intention of resigning, but the best informed opinion seems to be that there will be grave risks of internal disorders if the government attempts to hold on for many months more. The best guess at present seems to be that the liberals will stay until the autumn session of parliament, and that they will then attempt, with the approval of the king, to have General Averescu, a former premier, and commander-in-chief of the Rumanian army during the World war, form a stop-gap government in order to try to keep out the Transylvanians and the peasants.

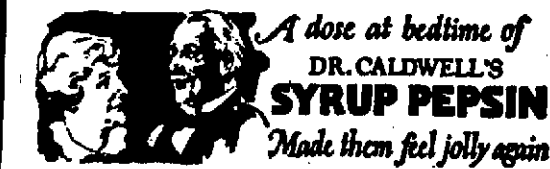

The program of the new national peasants party has been skillfully drawn up so as to make a strong appeal for foreign support, not only political, but financial. This program, while maintaining completely intact the present constitutional system, favors a federalized form of government, similar to Switzerland, as against the present centralized form in which the new territories are dominated by the Old Kingdom. Complete freedom, not only in theory, but in practice, is to be granted to all racial minorities, regardless of creed or religion; the term of military service would be reduced; and the financial and economic status of the country would be drastically reorganized so that the foreign capital necessary for Rumania's economic development would be attracted to the country on a just and safe basis.

This takes direct issue with the policy of the present government, which insists that any foreign capital employed in Rumania must be under Rumanian control and subordinate to Rumanian capital. The new party also stands for the abolition of the dominance of the Orthodox church in all ecclesiastical matters.

The second most important opposition "bloc" is the recently formed people's democratic party, under the leadership of Prof. N. Torga, which is a combination of the national democrats and the people's parties. The program of the people's democratic party is now so similar to that of the national peasants that, when the general election comes, both of the new parties will probably stand together in order to form a solid anti-liberal "bloc."

FREIGHTER GOES DOWN WITH 57 ABOARD

TOKIO, July 21.—Fifty-seven persons were drowned when the Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Matsuo Yama Maru foundered off Goto Island near Kyushu, July 19, according to a report received here today from the Kure office of the company. The freighter was an old vessel without a radio and carried no passengers. The last part made by the vessel was Keelung, Formosa, from which it sailed for Yokohama July 6.

Good Health In Happy Old Age

THE chief concern of elderly people is their health, and that is best assured by regular daily bowel movement. There is no truth, however, in the notion that because you are old you need a "strong physic." In fact, just because you are old a mild laxative is better for you. The trouble with purges and cathartics and physics is that they shock the system and weaken it and make the muscles of digestion flabby. Dr. G. H. Brown, V. S., of Frederic, Wis., nearly wrecked his stomach with purgatives. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin restored his health, as it did Mrs. J. S. Etheridge's, of Milledgeville, Ga.

largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Because of its mildness and freedom from griping it is especially ideal for the extremes of ages, for children and for elderly people.

Effective at Small Cost

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. The formula is on the package, and the cost less than a cent a dose. Take it when you feel heavy, sleep poorly, have headache or night cramps, for these are also symptoms of constipation. Give it to the children when they are restless, feverish or have a cold. Syrup Pepsin will keep you and the family free from constipation, a condition that lowers the vitality 25 per cent and raises the blood pressure 28 per cent. Freedom from constipation lessens the pain of kidney trouble, neuritis and rheumatism.

Does Not Gripe

You can be sure of satisfactory evacuations every day if you will take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night when you retire. You will not need to take it very long as a few doses will soon encourage the bowels to act for themselves. The popularity of this wonderful family remedy has become so great that it is now the

AIR MAIL PILOTS COVER MILES BY MILLION

CHICAGO, July 21. (By Associated Press)—Pilots winging their way back and forth across the United States in the air mail service have covered 5,364,810 miles up to May 31, a distance done in 58,262 hours, according to Luther K. Bell, traffic manager of air mail service here. It is a general average of nearly 92 miles an hour.

The names of 41 fliers who have given more than 100 hours' service to air mail are contained in a report from Mr. Bell, with the veteran E. Hamilton Lee, Hazelhurst headquarters, leading in number of hours. His total May 31 was 2,587 hours and 36 minutes for a distance of 261,205 miles. He was appointed to the air mail in December, 1918, and at present has the "run" between Long Island and Cleveland.

To Pilot William C. Hopson, Omaha headquarters, went the honor, however, of having flown his plane the greatest distance. In 2236 hours and seven minutes service he covered 231,876 miles. He now follows the air path between Chicago and Omaha.

Hopson is a Hill City, Kansas, product, who entered the air mail service in April, 1920, after a long record in civilian and army flying.

Only a few hours separated Lee and James H. Knight for first place. The pilot who has made enviable records in night flying and staged his memorable race with death had given 2311 hours and 58 minutes to the service when the compilation was made, in which time he had traveled 211,095 miles. Knight is another Kansas man, born in Lincoln, who first entered the air mail service in June, 1918. He resigned May 20, 1920 and was reappointed in October, 1920. His is the Omaha-Cheyenne route.

Others who have served more than 2000 hours, named according to rank in hours are, James P. Murray, headquarters Cheyenne, Cheyenne-Omaha run; William C. Hopson; Frank B. Tager, headquarters Cheyenne, Cheyenne-Omaha run; Warren D. Williams, headquarters Cleveland, Chicago-Cleveland run; Edith E. Moulton, headquarters Reno, Reno-Elko run; Wesley L. Smith, headquarters Hazelhurst, Hazelhurst-Cleveland run; L. H. Garrison, headquarters Omaha, Chicago-Omaha run, and Harry G. Smith, headquarters Omaha, Cheyenne-Omaha run.

All of the foregoing pilots have covered between 151,000 and 200,000 miles.

OLDEST MINING SCHOOL CLOSES

FREIBERG, Germany (By Associated Press)—Because mining operations have practically ceased in this section of Saxony, the mining school of Freiberg, founded in 1777, is about to be disbanded. This school is said to be the oldest of its kind in the world.

When Summer Comes Are You Tired, Weak, All Worn-out?

Is a constant backache spoiling your summer? Do you feel lame, stiff and aching; so utterly worn-out and miserable you can't enjoy a moment's rest or comfort?

Has it occurred to you it may all be due to weak kidneys? Well kidneys, you know, filter the poisons from the blood. But when the kidneys weaken, these body-toxins accumulate and upset the whole system. Backache is apt to follow, with sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't wait for serious kidney sickness. Use Doan's Pills. Lowell folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Lowell Folks:

Samuel Clark, machinist, 520 School St., says: "My back was lame and every time I stooped, a sharp pain cut into it. My rest was disturbed a great deal at night and I had to get up to pass the kidney secretions. I used Doan's Pills and they entirely rid me of the trouble."

Miss Sophia H. Bowen, 560 Middlesex St., says: "My back was lame and every time I stooped, a sharp pain cut into it. My rest was disturbed a great deal at night and I had to get up to pass the kidney secretions. I used Doan's Pills and they entirely rid me of the trouble."

Phes Says State Solons Despair of American Bar on St Westminster hall, declared American delegates had come to land rejoicing in an amity which became a fixed habit of two people on co-operation in the last of peace.

Of all international contacts," he said, "none could be happier than we have no political ends to reach, no differences to compose, no class to advance, except the highest of all—the policy of understanding and goodwill. The fact that we are more eloquent than anything can say. We come to tighten the ties of friendship.

Many, probably most of us, are and to you by ties of blood, but even more in the sense of the spiritual ship that we are all privileged to sail with those who in this island eloped the institutions of liberty which were brought to the new world were so fondly cherished that they are safeguarded in an unprecedented manner.

We come in the spirit of fraternalism which has triumphed over the difficulties of the 18 commonwealths in union because it is, in truth, the spirit of the larger fellowship represented here today in which differences of particular interest and sentiment cannot avail to obscure the unity of tradition of these two peoples trained according to the standard and the method of the common law.

We come with even a larger aim in the enjoyment of fraternal association in order that by these agreeable interchanges and more intimate knowledge of each other we may provide a clearer appreciation of our rights, opportunity and responsibility as ministers of justice in the world which needs justice and the nobleness which makes justice visible.

The common law which treasured a part of our birthright and inheritance. The ten talents that we thus received have been employed so profitably that we are almost overcome by the wealth that has flowed from the commonwealth. The commonwealth in union of states, each sovereign within its sphere, are producing laws a rate which has filled us with pride and the fertility of the fertile soil is our despair. Our duty of the common law has had an unbroken program.

It was realized at the beginning of the courts of justice were organized with particular advantages to exempt them from the baleful influence of faction. We have given, as was said Mr. Evans, "a new exaltation to power of the judiciary." We have over the principle of the common law, we have exalted it to the point of judicial reason in the forum of discussion shall be the final test of the rights of the people against their congress, against their states and between the states of the nation. "That all shall obey."

"This deliberate and difficult duty has been well discharged and notwithstanding repeated efforts to undermine its jurisdiction of the supreme court the United States as the final authority in the interpretation and application of the constitution it remains to hold upon the confidence of people. Believe that the attacks upon it once renewed will again fail.

"But if we have maintained the tradition so happily received of an independent judiciary, it is only because we have also conserved the tradition of an independent bar not servile to authority but always keen for the defense of individual rights against abuses of power, intent upon giving very man his day in court, and ever faithful in the judgment of the law."

"It is of course inevitable, that, with the legislatures and courts of 48 states constantly deciding and legislating, we should have not only multiple but divorces of laws, which our efforts to establish uniform laws, especially in relation to the important transactions of commercial life, have notified only in a limited degree.

"The spirit of the common law is opposed to those insidious encroachments upon liberty which take the form of an uncontrolled administrative authority—the modern guile of an incipient tyranny not the more welcome to intelligent men because it may wear the label of democracy.

"There is still the need to recognize the ancient right—and it is the most precious right of democracy—the right to be governed by law and not by officials—the right to reasonable, definite and proclaimed standards which the citizen can invoke against both violence and caprice."

Lawrence Youths Charged With Thefts From Home of R. J. Macartney

LAWRENCE, July 21.—Paul Matuchian and Paul Dwydon, Lawrence youths, aged 17 and 15, respectively, are in the custody of the Saco, Me., police, charged with attempted theft of an automobile and with several breaks at Saco and Portland. The Lawrence police have been looking for them since the burglary at the home of R. J. Macartney, Berkeley street, about three weeks ago.

Matuchian, according to the Lawrence authorities, is an escaped inmate of the Lyman school for boys at Westbrook. A watch and other valuables, found in the possession of the boys, have been returned to their owners in Portland, Dwydon and Matuchian told the Saco officers that they had left a diamond ring and other jewelry on the shore of a pond in North Saco, where they went swimming. These also were restored to their owners.

The looting of the Macartney home here is said to have been about the cleverest ransacking of a house ever brought to the attention of the Lawrence police. Every room, closet and drawer in the dwelling was searched systematically, and every movable article of any value was taken, to a total valuation of nearly $1000.

Sentence Suspended
SACO, Me., July 21.—Sentence was suspended on Paul Davison, 16, and Paul Matly, 17, of Lawrence, Mass., when they were arraigned this morning in the police court on charges of attempting to steal an automobile on Thursday last. They were turned over to the Portland police by whom they are wanted on charges of burglary in that city. The boys have been identified by Lawrence officers as former inmates at the Lyman State school.

ERIE EXPRESS KILLS TWO IN SEDAN

MONROE, N. Y., July 21.—Two women, sisters, are dead; another sister is near death in Gooden hospital, and a man, fourth member of a Sunday-motoring party, is seriously injured, in consequence of a crash crossing accident here yesterday, when the westbound New York-Jamestown express of the Erie railroad crashed into the sedan of Adolph Potdevin, 1218 75th street, Brooklyn.

Miss Louise Fitzer and Miss Carrie Fitzer, both of Brooklyn, were killed. The injured are Miss Matilda Fitzer and Adolph Potdevin, who was driving the car.

Liquor and Vice Squad
in court to answer charges of liquor law violations, and these paid fines aggregating $10,125. Seven cases were appealed and four are still pending. Fourteen defendants were adjudged not guilty and were discharged and four cases were placed on file.

Among the other arrests attributed to the squad are the following: Adultery, 1; abandoned children, 1; burglars' tools in possession, 1; disorderly house, 1; gaming house, 1; gaming implements found, 1; arrests for gaming, 155; gaming raids, 12; house of ill-fame, 1; lewd, 1; lewd and lascivious, 4; operating an automobile while drunk, 1; keeping open shop, 5; operating an automobile without a license, 2; narcotic drugs, 11; procuring, 1.

HUNGARY GRANTS AMNESTY

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 21.—All persons involved in the attempt to restore former Emperor Charles to the throne when the late monarch made his sensational descent upon Hungary three years ago are to be granted amnesty. The cabinet desired to take action on the proposal by Admiral Porthall, the regent, after a long discussion. The grant will include Count Andrássy and Count Sigray, whose before her marriage was Miss Harriet Dwy of Butte, Montana.

DAWES PLAN IS DISCUSSED

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press) Premier MacDonald of England today conferred for two hours with Premier Herriot of France, Finance Minister de Stefani of Italy, Premier Theunis of Belgium and Ambassador Kellogg of the United States regarding ways and means of obtaining an agreement between the delegates of the Inter-Allied conference on the enforcement of the Dawes plan. While the plenary delegates discussed the broad phases of the Dawes plan, the committees of experts continued their efforts to reach an agreement on the measures for bringing about the fiscal and economic unity of Germany. It is believed this will be realized by tonight except for the question of railway control, which remains a stumbling block to the plans for the evacuation of the Ruhr.

WHITINSVILLE, July 21.—Benjamin Fletcher, 42 years of age, shot and probably fatally wounded a himself today. He was talking with his wife on the lawn of a home where she is employed as housekeeper, when he drew a pistol and fired. Fletcher was taken to the hospital and was not expected to live. The cause for his act was not known.

REPORT U. S. CRUISER AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, July 21.—The United States cruiser Milwaukee arrived in port yesterday en route to the North Atlantic where it will arrange for the reception and care of the world-circumciling United States army airmen. The headquarters of the cruiser will be Indian Harbor.

COLUMBUS' LANDING PLACE U. S. SOIL

SAN JUAN, July 21.—Governor Towner today formally accepted from the Insular government the gift of the tract of land near Aguadilla where Christopher Columbus landed in 1493. The only spot under the American flag where the discoverer of America ever set foot. The government will develop the tract as a park in which the Knights of Columbus of the United States have offered to erect a suitable Columbus monument.

SEN. WALSH QUILTS COMMITTEE POST

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Senator David J. Walsh of Massachusetts resigned today as chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee and was succeeded by Senator Jones of New Mexico.

"In accordance with precedent I am relinquishing my duties as chairman of the senatorial committee," Senator Walsh said, "as it is the practice for a senator to serve in this capacity for only one congressional election."

Democratic Nominee Preparing Address to Open His Formal Campaign

To Leave for New York Early Next Week, Then Going to West Virginia

DARK HARBOR, Islesboro, Me., July 21.—Preparatory work on his address formally accepting the democratic presidential nomination was started today by John W. Davis in a temporary workshop which has been set up in the studio building of Charles Dana Gibson, his host on Seven Hundred Acre island near here. A great mass of data on foreign and domestic problems which was gathered together at New York was taken to the Gibson home early today by his secretaries and Mr. Davis will digest this before starting to map the address out in his mind.

He already has discussed many phrases of the whole subject matter with party leaders.

Already much ranked by his two days stay here, the candidate attacked his task with a vim, but he has decided to make haste slowly and had engagements for lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Polk at their summer home in Islesboro and for a round of golf on the course on the northern end of Islesboro.

Declaring that few persons realized how worn out he was when he left New York, Mr. Davis said he already felt 100 per cent better, physically than he did upon his arrival here Saturday noon. He intends to get plenty of exercise at golf, possibly at sailing in knockabouts, the favorite sailing craft in the region, and in swimming. This is the first vacation the nominee has had since early last summer.

Although he has no intention of forcing himself in the preparation of his speech of acceptance to be delivered at Clarksburg, W. Va., on August 11, Mr. Davis expects to have it fully outlined in memorandum form when he leaves early next week for New York.

Thus far no intimation has been given as to his contents, but his friends predict a vigorous handling of the major problems of the day, including foreign affairs and farm relief as well as other domestic questions. Honesty in government, they believe, will be a paramount object, treated in the light of development before congressional investigating committees.

HEALTH CAMP FOR BOYS OPENED TODAY

The summer health camp for boys, near the Isolation hospital, opened this morning. Sixty-five boys, under the supervision of Miss Grace Carroll, arrived at camp early this forenoon. Miss Carroll, assisted by an able corps of nurses, will be in charge of the boys during their stay at camp.

The purpose of the camp is to take the children from the congested parts of the city and to give them the benefit of plenty of fresh air and health-building food. The camp is for children who are weak and underweight. The girls' camp closed last Saturday evening after a successful course of two weeks.

stration," he said "there will be an aerial circus. We will send three squadrons of planes each up the coast of Maine some as far east as Pictou, N. S., to escort Lieutenant Smith and his associates to Boston. The chief of the air service, General Mason M. Patrick, and his assistant chief, General William D. Mitchell, as well as officers from Washington, will fly here to extend the welcome. We are preparing also to handle about 50 visiting planes at the East Boston air port.

"The planes will probably land in Boston harbor and taxi up to the port, as they will be equipped with pontoons until they take on wheels again here. The fliers will probably follow the Maine coast down from Pictou, which will give an opportunity to thousands of persons at the New England resorts to see them; or they may cut across the Gulf of Maine and shorten the distance.

"The fact that Old Orchard, Maine, has been made an emergency landing field and supply base indicates, however, that it is likely they will take the beach route.

"At Boston, equipped again with wheels, they will make only a short stop over and then fly to Mitchell Field, N. Y."

John W. Davis, Main Street Sheikh, Boyhood Pal Recalls

By N.E.A. Service

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 21.—John W. Davis will have his national campaign managers and district campaign managers, but his sister is going to have something to say about the campaign in his birth town.

She is Miss Emma K. Davis, a woman of forceful personality. Friends here predict that although she'll have no title in the democratic army, she'll take full command here.

Before her return from New York she had telephonic conferences with friends here, advising them how to proceed. It may be noted that they followed her directions explicitly.

She is as well known in Clarksburg as her brother, and friends take the liberty of referring to her as "Emma K." No one, however, has heard her so called to her face.

There is a striking similarity between the background of Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis. Both are from families of deep religious convictions.

John Davis, grandfather of the democratic nominee used to gather his slaves into his home Sunday evenings at Clarksburg and lead them and his family in prayer.

His religious zeal was passed on to John J. Davis, his son, who was the largest contributor to the Central Presbyterian church in Clarksburg. He was no active in its founding, and his financial aid so great, it is sometimes referred to as the "Davis chapel."

John W. Davis' parents were very strict. Friends tell how his mother once told him to go down to the post-office to get the mail.

John, then but a little fellow replied: "I would go, mother, but I am afraid it would spoil the servant."

His mother replied that she would rather have all her servants spoiled than to have her son shirk work.

Davis took warning and got the mail.

His mother gave Davis practically all of his grammar and high school education. He never went to the public schools of Clarksburg.

She was a brilliant woman. She mastered Latin and Greek after the birth of his first child.

For a short time Davis went to a private school conducted by one Bettinger.

"Davis and I remember Bettinger by one thing only," says George Duncan, now a Clarksburg banker, and once boyhood chum of Davis. "He always taught class with his feet on the desk and long black stogie in his mouth."

In spite of his rigorous training, Davis was a true boy, Duncan says.

Both probably were the 1893 counterpart of the modern shock.

"We didn't go joyriding in autos in those days," Duncan says. "We owned horses and rigs. Many times Davis and I raced down Main street, to the dismay of the more staid folk. But Davis' horse could never beat my sorrel."

Davis used to run away from the maternal apron strings to the old swimming hole with Duncan and other boys. Davis' grandfather was a saddler, his father also operated the saddlery in Main street for a number of years, even after Davis was born, but later entered the bar and politics.

Davis entered politics unknowingly against his father's strict orders. In 1910 delegates of the first West Virginia congressional district met to choose a congressional candidate.

Hearing they were almost unanimous for his son, John J. Davis sent a telegram forbidding him to accept the post. To make sure, he sent another telegram.

Ignatius Brennan, political boss, got the telegrams first. He kept them in his pocket until after Davis accepted.

He was elected and has never been defeated for any office.

"I know more about Davis than his father," boasts Dr. J. W. Johnston, Davis' family physician for the past 25 years.

But upholding professional traditions, he won't tell secrets.

Dr. Johnston went to the democratic convention at his own expense to aid Davis. He claims to have swung the North and South Carolina delegations into line for him.

All Clarksburg is Davis mad. Business has ceased its usual quiet course since his nomination.

People who haven't spoken to each other for years are talking Davis on the street corners.

Visitors are lunched by any number of self-appointed guides who insist on showing where Davis stood when he made his last speech, where he ate lunch, and where he first met Ellen Bassel, his second wife.

MISS EMMA K. DAVIS, SISTER OF JOHN W. DAVIS, WILL HAVE A LOT TO SAY ABOUT HOW HIS CAMPAIGN FOR THE PRESIDENCY IS CONDUCTED IN HIS HOME TOWN, CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

JOHN W. DAVIS IS UNLIKE MOST PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES, IN NOT BEING BORN IN A LOG CABIN. EVEN HIS OLDEST FRIENDS AREN'T SURE WHERE HE WAS BORN BUT MOST OF THEM THINK THE HOUSE ABOVE IS THE PLACE. THE DAVIS FAMILY MOVED INTO IT ABOUT THE TIME OF HIS BIRTH—FOLKS AREN'T SURE WHETHER IT WAS BEFORE OR AFTER.

DR. J. W. JOHNSTON HAS BEEN THE DAVIS FAMILY PHYSICIAN FOR 25 YEARS. HE WENT TO NEW YORK AT HIS OWN EXPENSE TO HELP NOMINATE HIM.

GEORGE DUNCAN, BANKER, AND THE BEST DRESSED MAN IN CLARKSBURG, W. VA., WAS A BOYHOOD CHUM OF DAVIS. THEY USED TO RACE HORSES ON MAIN STREET, AND DUNCAN CLAIMS HE ALWAYS WON.

HELD FOR 17 MURDERS

Police Charge Haartmann Would Drug Men and Then Strangle Them

HANOVER, Germany, July 21.—Fritz Haartmann, known as the "Vampire murderer," has been charged with 17 murders in an indictment just filed by the state's attorney. An investigation of Haartmann's personality, said been concluded.

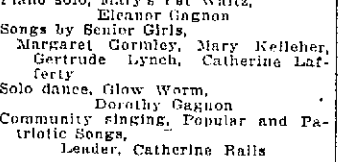

Dr. Kopp, a criminologist who has been conducting a scientific investigation of Haartmann's personality, said that "Haartmann is unquestionably a bewitching combination of unnatural impulses." Most of the murdered men were said to have been "doctors" who were grateful for a night's lodging or a drink of brandy with which Haartmann is said to have drugged them. Haartmann admitted that he usually strangled the men while they were asleep.

INVENTOR'S APPARATUS ON MARKET

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, July 21.—Transmission of pictures by radio, long the subject of world-wide discussion and experiment, is at last ready for practical use.

Initial installations are now being made and soon the whole United States, as well as other countries, is expected to be covered with a network of radio photo transmitting and receiving apparatus.

A company has already been formed here for the purpose. It establishes and operates transmitting equipment, manufactures and leases receiving apparatus, and is continuing research work for perfection of the machinery. Basic patents have already been issued in this country, and the company is now working on a method of sending pictures by radio. Others, too, have been busy with the same idea, but Jenkins' machine is unique.

The basis of the apparatus is a prismatic ring, or disc, a new optical shape in glass, which Jenkins himself designed and can make only by the use of special apparatus. In the sending apparatus, four prismatic rings are combined, revolving across a light beam directed through a photo negative. These rings slice the rays into strips and convert the light waves into electrical values.

The electrical values are then sent out into space on radio carrier waves, just as sound is transmitted. At the receiving end, these electrical waves are caught, converted into light and recorded on a photo negative.

Thus one broadcasting station can transmit a photograph to as many points as have the required receiving apparatus, powerful enough to detect the waves of the broadcaster. In this, the photo broadcasting is similar to sound broadcasting, the distance of transmission being dependent on the power of the station and the strength of the receiving set.

Radio Vision Ahead

Jenkins expects to go even farther. He forecasts the coming of radio vision and radio movies within a few years. In his laboratory here, five youths are helping him perfect these wonders. Combined with audio-radio, Jenkins sees the next generation listening and seeing plays and events enacted far away.

Saturday, the feast of St. Anne, will be observed in the Catholic churches of the city with special masses and devotions.

The annual novena of the members of St. Anne's sodality of St. Joseph's parish was opened last evening at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. J. LaFramme, O.M.I., pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, Ottawa, is conducting the services.

The summer schedule of masses was followed in the churches yesterday. Several societies receiving Holy Communion in a body.

Confessions for the girls of St. Patrick's parish will be heard Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special mass for the children will be celebrated at 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Blessed Virgin sodality of St. Rita's church meets tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Devotions to St. Rita, benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and rosary devotions will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Third Order of St. Francis of the Immaculate Conception parish meets tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. J. Kennedy of Houston, Texas, was the celebrant of the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. Margaret's church yesterday morning. The drawing of the grand prize offered at the garden party will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at St. Peter's orphanage.

The Immaculate Conception sodality of St. Peter's church will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The girls of the parish will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8:30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

Exercises of the novena during the week at St. Jean Baptiste church will be held every evening at 7:15 o'clock. Confessions will be heard Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings. Those making the novena will receive Holy Communion in a body at a high mass to be celebrated at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The novena will be brought to a close on Sunday night at 4 o'clock when new members will be received into the sodality.

The members of Our Lady of Lourdes sodality received communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass at Notre Dame de Lourdes church yesterday morning.

The smaller girls of St. Marie's parish, South Lowell, received Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass celebrated yesterday morning by Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I., pastor of the church.

The members of the Children of Mary sodality and the Angel Guardian sodality of St. Jeanne D'Arc's church will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

WHOLE FAMILY ENDORSE TANLAC AS BEST TONIC

MR. & MRS. H.H. PISTOLE and Family

"Tanlac has been our constant friend for years, and my wife and myself and eight children are all enjoying wonderful health, largely due to this medicine," is the remarkable statement of Harry H. Pistole, 210 Arches St., Waco, Texas.

"In my own case Tanlac has done what seemed to be impossible. When I began taking it, my stomach was in such a bad fix that I had to live on a milk and egg diet and I was almost a skeleton. I had been flat on my back in bed and under treatment for 18 months and felt that my time was about up.

"After my case had been given up as hopeless and I thought I was beyond redemption, a relative put me on to Tanlac, and the result is I gained 50 pounds, and enjoy as good health as anybody could wish.

"My wife was all broken down in health. But now she weighs 155 pounds, and is strong and well and I am giving Tanlac credit for it. We give Tanlac to the children to tone them up and make them grow, and nobody ever had a healthier set of children than we have.

"Tanlac is certainly the greatest medicine on earth for anyone whose life is wrecked by bad health. We sure do have a great deal to praise Tanlac for at my house."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 millions bottles sold.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY AS A MURDERER

MEMPHIS, July 21.—Following his alleged confession to the murder of Mrs. Ruth McElwain "Tucker" and Dunbar Waller, on the night of Jan. 21, 1923, and of W. O. Spencer about four months later, Charles Barr, 23, a negro, is held pending presentation of evidence to a grand jury.

"Police declare the negro has cleared up every detail of the mysterious 'roadside murders' which held motorists in terror last year, and today they will search for a missing diamond ring torn from the finger of Mrs. Tucker when she and Waller were shot to death on a country highway near Memphis. One ring, found by police in a pawnshop, is said to have been identified by the negro as having been pulled from Mrs. Tucker's finger as she attempted to flee.

While hatches of wounded men have been arriving in Santos, advice corroborate the indications contained in the official communication that there was no general shelling last week.

SAINT VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

A meeting of the Saint Vincent de Paul society of Lowell was held yesterday morning in Saint Patrick's Boys' school hall with President Humphrey O'Sullivan in the chair. All the conferences of the city were represented. Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., pastor of St. Patrick's church was the speaker.

PLANE RECONNOITER ABOUT SAO PAULO

BUENOS AIRES, July 21 (by the Associated Press).—The federal assault against Sao Paulo, Brazilian metropolis held by the insurrectionists, may have already begun, according to indications contained in official despatches from Rio Janeiro. A recent communique issued by the government referred to an airplane reconnaissance for "operations that are now proceeding." The reconnaissance, reportedly, cost about 20,000, are said to be confident of the outcome. It is declared the revolutionary forces hold all the strategic points in and about Sao Paulo, and also have artillery placed on what are known as the English bluffs, which command the roads leading to the city.

While hatches of wounded men have been arriving in Santos, advice corroborate the indications contained in the official communication that there was no general shelling last week.

The postponement of the assault on the city by the government troops is said to have been influenced by the foreign consuls, who protested against the bombardment.

INCREASING LEAGUE LEAD

Washington Has to Take Out Walter Johnson to Save Game—Rixey as Pinch Twirler Has 32nd Scoreless Inning—Williams Gets 10th Homer

NEW YORK, July 21.—Boston's blue laws helped the Yankees to stave a march on Detroit by coping a Sunday double-header from Cleveland while the Tigers were forced to twiddle their thumbs in the Hub. The result is that New York today faces the Indians in the first of what promises to be a "rip-snorting" series with a lead of a game and a half. The Washington also took advantage of the youngsters' idleness to advance to within one game of the second place.

The first Cleveland-New York game was a battle, the final of which was 4 to 1. Shaute and Jones pitched cleverly, but the latter had a slight edge. World champions romped to an easy win in the second engagement, hammering young Dawson and Metcalf for ten runs against the Indians' four.

Johnson Leaves Box
In the only other American league contest Washington rallied a five to four triumph over St. Louis' grasp with a ninth inning ratch, Walter Johnson had to retire under fire in the 8th and Russell, his successor, got credit for the victory.

Eppa Rixey arrived upon the scene just in time to squelch a last-minute New York rally and the Giants bowed to Cincinnati by a score of 5 to 2. McGraw's aggregation had scored two runs on three straight hits before a man was retired when the Reds' ace relieved Denton and completed his 22 scoreless inning.

Chicago trampled the down-trodden Braves still deeper into the dust and incidentally decreased the Giants' lead to seven games with a 7-4 win over the bean-eaters. Hartnett's two and Adams' holding and steal of home featured.

Phils Break Even
By gaining an even break with St. Louis in a twin bill, Philadelphia emerges from the darkest of the cellar into the comparatively bright sunshine of seventh place which they share today with Braves. The Cardinals won the opener, 7 to 4 and the Phils came back in the second with a 3 to 2 win.

Cy Williams hit his tenth home run of the season in the first inning of the final.

Leader of North Cambridge Baseball Team in Boisterous Mood

Looked Like Rough-House For Little While at Saturday's Game

Dan Leahy, vociferous leader of the North Cambridge baseball team, ran true to form at Alumni field Saturday afternoon, when he bitterly resented a 4 to 3 defeat handed his team by the Abbots of Graniteville.

All during the game, Leahy displayed a boisterous tendency, but the climax came in the ninth when a North Cambridge player was justly called out at third base for the final out of the matinee. Leahy immediately entered a protest, emphasizing his indignation by approaching Umpire Mansell, who, by the way, was not responsible for the decision, and in the heat of an argument, he stepped on the umpire's foot with his spiked shoe. Mansell was painfully hurt by the incident, and the fans realizing his predicament, rushed on the field and swarmed about Leahy. The latter was dealt several uncomplimentary threats, and was in a very dangerous position when Police Officers William Reagan, Frank O'Dea, and Francis O'Loughlin arrived at his side and escorted him to the visiting players' clubhouse.

Meanwhile, a devout Abbot fan began to show the effect of the wrangling and sought to punch a North representative. He was quieted by Officer O'Dea and sent home after he had cooled off.

Umpire Mansell, it is understood, was forced to require treatment for his spike wound at St. John's hospital.

As far as the game itself was concerned, Saturday's Abbots were better than the Cantab crew. Eddie Boyce, reliable southpaw heaver, had the visitors eating out of his hand most of the distance, while the blue uniformed contingent from Graniteville was in a hitting mood, lacing out bingles at will against the offerings of the famed Chippy Gax. Every one of the winning team's runs were earned.

HEBERT-POLO BOUT AT NASHUA TONIGHT

With a big delegation of Lowell fans expected at the ring-side, Frankie Hebert of this city will enter the roped arena at Nashua tonight confident of winning over Eddie Polo of Waterville, Me., in the feature event of an open air show. The bout is for the New England flyweight title, now held by Polo.

A fine preliminary card will precede the main event. The first bout will go on at 8 o'clock daylight saving time.

THE NASHUA TEAM

Two no-hit, no-run games within a month is the record of Pitcher McCarthy of the Nashua team as the result of his 1-0 victory over the Silesia Mills team at North Chelmsford yesterday afternoon. During the nine frames in which he worked against the heavy Silesia batsmen, McCarthy was faced by but 27 men, and while his offerings were touched up quite frequently by the North Chelmsford boys, he was given superb support.

The only run of the game came in the seventh stanza when Ryan took hold of a groover and sent the pitcher hurrying to deep center field for a home run.

McCarthy pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Silesia about a month ago.

MACK TO TRADE SOME OF HIS VETERANS

(By N.E.A. Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Connie Mack is a glutton for punishment. Despite his anti-season prediction that he would positively finish second, it looks as if he would again be last.

Mack doesn't care to get out of the managerial game with a failure on his hands. His present club is so rated.

It is said that his son, Earl, who sits next to him on the bench each day, is to be his successor as manager. He is being trained for the job.

In an effort to get some new faces it is rumored that Mack intends parting with several of his veteran players, the most notable one being Catcher "Cy" Perkins.

Rated the best backstop in the league a few seasons back, Perkins is getting no better. He has apparently outlived his usefulness in Philadelphia, and it is said Mack intends to get rid of him while the trading is good.

Other veterans who have failed are in the same basket.

SILESIA SUFFER ANOTHER DEFEAT

Silesia Mills nine was defeated 4 to 3 by Nashua in a 12-inning battle in the New Hampshire city Saturday afternoon. The winning tally was sent across the plate by Bill Haeffner, Nashua catcher, when he tripled with a man on first base.

Mullowney pitched the whole game for Silesia, allowing 15 hits and five bases. McCarthy and Miller were on the mound for the Nashua aggregation and allowed 15 hits.

HALE ON THE MARKET

Connie Mack has about decided that Ricardo is the best of his third base material. This means that in all probability, Sammy Hale, who cost Mack plenty of money, will be used for trading material. Mack is said to value Hale at $20,000, a lot of money for a player who has twice failed to make the grade in the majors.

AMERICAN SWIMMERS BREAK ADDITIONAL RECORDS AT OLYMPIC GAMES IN FRANCE

American Tennis Team Clinches Victory Because of Wins Yesterday

PARIS, July 21.—(By the Associated Press).—With the Olympic boxing and swimming team championships added to the rapidly growing list of international triumphs, the United States will complete another conqueror's march this afternoon on the Colombes tennis courts.

The two young American tennis stars, Miss Helen Wills and Vincent Richards, clinched the team victory yesterday when they won the singles championships, the former from Miss Valentin by the score of 6-2, 6-2.

The United States points score will be increased today regardless of the outcome of the finals in the men's and mixed doubles. The men's event will be the third Franco-American contest, with Richards and Francis T. Hunter opposing the French stars, S. Cochet and Brunon.

But the fifth title match of the tournament will see an all-American battle between the mixed doubles combination of Miss Marion Z. Jessup and Richards and Miss George Wickham and R. Norris Williams, 2nd. Both pairs triumphed in the semi-finals yesterday.

The American swimmers hung up a record-breaking triumph, overwhelming all rivals by taking first places in 13 of 17 events and scoring 217 points against 58 by Sweden, their nearest competitor. The Americans scored more points than ever fell to any country at any Olympic meet in the history of the games.

In the grand final yesterday two world's records were broken and another equaled; four new marks being set for the 100 metres back stroke for women and the 800 metres men's relay. While the record made by Marjorie Welsh of Honolulu in the 100 metres free style was equaled by Ethel Lackie of Chicago.

The United States had almost a walk over in the 800 metres relay. The team, composed of Dryer, Glantz, O'Connor and Welsh, won with plenty of spare from the speedy Australians. Miss Sybil Bauer clipped four-fifths of a second from the world's record in the 100 metres back stroke, her time being 1 minute, 23 1-5 seconds.

Weismuller came within two-fifths of a second of the world's record created by himself in winning the 100 metres free style. His time was 59 seconds flat. The new world's record for the relay was 9 minutes, 52 1-5 seconds, six seconds better than the former one.

The United States boxers, who carried off the batting championship of the Olympic games by scoring 35 points, closed their victory over Britain, which had 30, broke training today. The batters from America won two out of eight championships.

ABBOT WORSTEDS DEFEAT MAYNARD

With a substitute pitcher on the mound, the Abbot Worsteds overwhelmed Maynard, 13 to 3, at Graniteville yesterday afternoon. Outfielder Minert was the substitute who did the twirling and made a good job of it. He held the visitors to seven hits, while his own teammates were walloping the apple for fifteen. Elmer Urran got a homer, while Dameron, St. Angelo and Kroh connected for triples. Three Maynard pitchers were used in an effort to stem the tide.

The City Twilight League has been going along at a merry pace. With the defection of the Pawtucket A.A. by the Bellevues as leaders in the league standing and the steady gaining of Marie's Americans, the three leaders intend to fight it out to a bitter finish, while the Centralville East Ends, the Rutlers and Ricard's Belmonts are by no means out of the running.

Tonight's game will bring together the reorganized Centralville East Ends, strengthened by the acquisition of several new players, and the hard-battling Pawtucket fifth the star twirler, Chick Tardif. If the Pawtucket win this game, they will go right after the Bellevues for premier honors.

The Pawtucket, by the way, have entered a protest concerning the game with the Bellevues two weeks ago to night. On that occasion Tommy Fleming's gang planned a 1-0 defeat on the Pawtucketville aggregation, but Manager Flynn of the A.A. protests that the game was won on an illegal decision by the umpire. For the purpose of hearing the contentions of both sides, a special meeting of the league representatives will be held at Crescent rink tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock. As there is a considerable amount of other important business to come up for discussion, it is hoped that every team will be represented.

In Wednesday night's game between the Belmonts and Rutlers, Frank Ricard, sponsor of the Belmonts, will donate three valuable prizes to be awarded to the fans holding the lucky tickets.

Showing his importance to the St. Louis Browns in 1922, when he was 100 per cent perfect, and as he looms today, with his effectiveness lessened 30 per cent as a result of his illness of last year.

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, July 18.—While George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns has done a remarkable comeback after being out of the game for a year, American League pitchers say he is far removed from the dangerous batter of old.

A glance over the American League batting averages since the opening of the season bears out the opinion of the pitchers.

Sisler, instead of being up among the leaders, with a mark close to .400, has been far down the line, most of the time hovering around the .300 mark.

"Sisler is a great player and a good hitter, but far below his brilliant form of other years."

BUSTED LEG MAY DIM COMBS' STAR

BY BILLY EVANS
"He's the greatest outfielder that has broken into the major leagues since the entry of Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker or Eddie Roush."

That is the compliment Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees paid Earl Combs, who recently suffered a broken leg in a game at Cleveland.

Combs at present is in New York convalescing. There will be no way of telling the effect of the injury until Combs has put the leg to every test. A broken bone in the leg is a very serious thing to a fast man in baseball. Combs is that type of a player. Had he been developed as a sprinter he would have stepped close to 10 feet for the 100 yards.

"In all my career as a player and manager I have never enthused over any other recruit as I have over Combs," continued Huggins.

Great Stars Are Rare
"He is one of those great players, real stars, who come only about every 25 years."

"Combs hasn't a single weakness. His arm isn't as good as that of Bob Meusel, but he plenty good enough, far better than most major league outfielders."

"A natural batter, Combs hits any kind of pitching with equal ease. He times all kinds of pitching perfectly and hits the ball hard. If his injury doesn't affect his play, he is certain to take his place among the game's greatest hitters."

"Although a big fellow, Combs is unusually fast. He can step down to first as quickly as the diminutive Whitley Witt, one of the fastest men going to first in the American League."

Has the Winning Spirit
"Once he gets on, Combs uses his speed to his great advantage in reaching first. He is able to get a big lead, sources the break and is a fine man at hitting the dirt. His slide is most deceptive."

"His holding is on a par with his batting and speed. He gives every promise of being another Tris Speaker in the field."

"A fine disposition, a great competitive spirit, plus wonderful natural ability, made Combs stand out as a second Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and a few more of the great outfielders combined."

"I am worried about his broken leg. Few fast men ever come back as good as ever. The late Ray Chapman of Cleveland was one of the few exceptions."

All of which makes it apparent that Earl Combs, in his first year as a big leaguer, has most favorably impressed his manager, Miller Huggins.

Heavyweight is Held Up By Immigration Authorities and Woman Questioned

Wild Bull of the Pampas Anxious for Another Dempsey Mill

NEW YORK, July 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, and his party were detained aboard the liner American Legion today by immigration authorities, who questioned him for some time after the steamer docked. The authorities declined to state the reason for the detention.

They also questioned a woman named Blanca Lourdes, a friend of Firpo, who had a state room adjoining the fighter's. She said she was en route to Cuba.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, whose return visit to this country is for the purpose of meeting Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, will arrive on the liner American Legion from Buenos Aires today. After spending a few days here discussing financial arrangements with Tex Rickard, he will go to Atlantic City to begin his long training grind.

Firpo's decision to return to Atlantic City, where he trained for his bout with Jack Dempsey last September, came as a surprise to ring followers. He was generally understood that Firpo disliked the New Jersey resort as a training ground.

One of the matters Firpo plans to talk over with Rickard while in this city is the possibility of arranging a return bout with Dempsey in case the South American defeats Wills.

COPY OLD BUILDINGS ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Buildings of the type of a thousand years ago, and more, are rising on the University of Michigan campus here as the first structures to house the Michigan Law School become a reality.

Walls of Gothic type copied from ancient structures in Picardy and Champagne, or certain famous cathedrals in England, are being reared here by new world workmen who, instead of following the hand chisel work of early craftsmen, are making dexterous use of the numberless facilities of the age of electricity and the trip-hammer.

The Michigan Law club is an attempt by a donor whose identity is kept secret, to enrich the graduates and the advanced law student here with such surroundings that he will not hurry on to the ranks of practicing attorneys until he has delved widely and profoundly into the legal understanding and traditions of the profession.

Within the partially completed buildings is a hall destined to be, for a time at least, the show place of the club. It is more than 100 feet long, 50 feet to the beginning of the oak beamed roof and about that distance in width. It will be the dining room of the club.

Light will enter through a series of glass tracery windows, the glass for these being brought from England. The roof viewed from the inside will be a succession of Gothic oak arches, supporting oak cross beams, these in turn supporting roofboards of solid oak. Above these will be a false roof of pine, covered with a two-inch "quilt" of seaweed upon which will be laid the final roof of hard lead. This roof, declare the workmen, with the beautiful exception of holes and notches, is an exact reproduction of many thousand-year-old roofs through Picardy, Champagne and England.

In general the rest of the building will be of a Gothic type of about 1000 years later than the period of the dining hall. The whole structure is a gathering of materials principally from Wales and England.

The carving of the medallions above the entrances and in niches of the wall, done by artists, nevertheless will get their finishing touches by men of the old school, led by a foreman who gave ten years of his life to study in a school in Rome.

SOOTHORON NOW IN SENIOR LEAGUE

By N.E.A. Service
ST. LOUIS, July 21.—Pitcher Allan Sothoron, who led the American League with the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, is finding the going rather smooth in the National League. Sothoron, who was released by Manager Rickard of the St. Louis Cardinals after being dropped from the American League ranks.

Sothoron, who is the possessor of much natural ability, failed in the American league because of his inability to field. He was, practically, bunted out of the league.

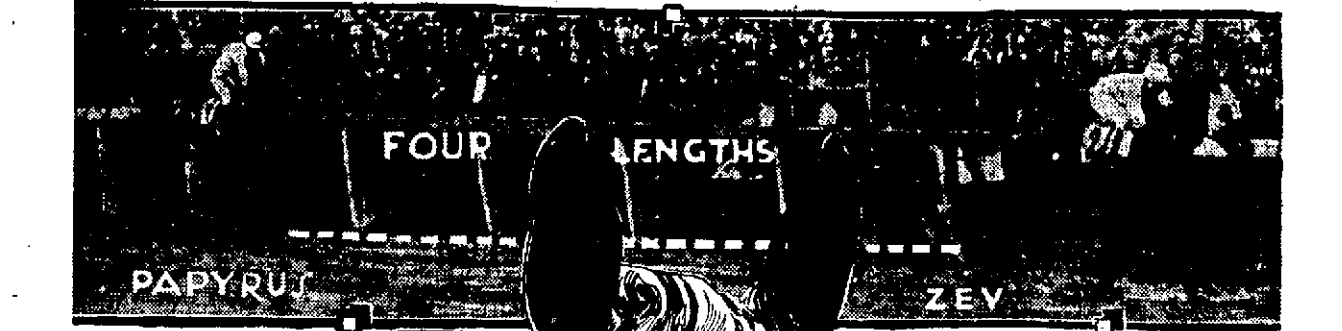

OLYMPIC YACHTSMEN START COMPETITION

HAVRE, France, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Yachtsmen of 11 nations are seeking Olympic honors in their sixth day series of races which start today. A speedy array of six and eight metre crafts will compete.

The United States is not entered in the sailing competition but Cuba and Argentina represent the western hemisphere.

Yachting counts on the same point basis as the other Olympic sports, the winner getting two points and the second five.

Papyrus Was Easy for America's Best—Will Epinard, Great French Horse, Fall Down, Too?

(By NEA Service)
NEW YORK, July 21.—What will be Epinard's fate in the International horse duels this season?

The great French horse is now in this country training for a series of races against the cream of the American turf.

Epinard's first start will be made at Belmont, the second at Aqueduct, the third at Latonia.

The Latonia event is likely to overshadow the other two in point of national interest because Black Gold, champion three-year-old of the current season, will be listed among the starters.

This recalls the visit of Papyrus to this country last fall. Papyrus was greeted as the super-horse of the European turf, just as Epinard is now. Papyrus was sent against Zev, the then champion three-year-old of the states, and was roundly beaten. Zev won in a canter by four lengths. Papyrus was never in the running.

Climate bent Papyrus.
After the race veteran horsemen expressed the opinion that Papyrus was a much better horse than the result indicated. "No horse can come from one country to another and get perfectly acclimated in less than six months' time," they contended.

How will the theory hold in Epinard's case? The French horse has only recently arrived in less than two months' time he will be swimming into action against the fastest horses in this country. Will he succeed where Papyrus failed? Time alone can tell.

Epinard is a beautiful horse with every characteristic of a champion.

Competent observers say Epinard is a much better horse in every respect than Papyrus, being sounder of legs and much longer gaited. So far the French invader has shown no ill effects and appears to be acclimating splendidly.

Black Gold's Big Race
Some of the thoroughbreds that are sure to start against Epinard are Ordinance, Ladkin, Wise Counselor, Zev, Grey Lag, Mad Hatter, In Memoriam, Charolett, Chilhowie, My Own and Black Gold.

Because Black Gold has had the most spectacular record of any American horse this season he stands out as Epinard's foremost challenger, and the meeting between the two is likely to excite as much interest as the one between Papyrus and Zev did last year.

Black Gold has won four derby events since spring, starting with the Louisiana Derby at New Orleans. Next came the Kentucky Derby at Louisville, the Ohio Derby at Cleveland and the recent Chicago Derby at Chicago.

Black Gold would have to carry 113 pounds, according to the Kentucky age scale in October. Epinard, a four-year-old, would carry 122 pounds.

Last year the widely heralded international race between Papyrus, champion horse of England, and Zev, best of the American three-year-olds, developed into a farce, with the English entry winning by four easy lengths. American turf fans are wondering what kind of race Epinard, the visiting French champion, will put up against the home star in the coming international events.

Answers
1. The batsman is charged with a time at bat and credited with a base hit when a batted ball comes into contact with a base runner before any play has been made on said ball.

WESTERN GOLF PLAY PHILADELPHIA MAIDEN IS REAL SPEEDER

CHICAGO, July 21.—Star golfers, numbering 152, today started the 25th annual championship of the Western Golf Association at Hinsdale golf club by playing the first 18-hole qualifying round. Another round tomorrow will determine the 31 golfers, who with Chick Evans, defending title-holder, will compete at a match play for the crown now held by Evans for the eighth time.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The St. Peter's Cadets, seconds, defeated the strong Emeralds of the Junior Twilight League, 20 to 5, Sunday.

The Young Cubs accept the challenge of the Hudson Juniors. The game will be played on the Bartlett school grounds.

Billy Evans SAYS

If a ball player accepts 16 chances in the field without an error, his work is generally regarded as one of the features of the game.

Often, if he makes three or four sensational plays, only to fail down on an easy chance that plays no part in the result, he is acclaimed one of the fielding heroes of the day.

What about the umpire who in the course of the game must make any where from 50 to 150 rulings. Each ruling is a play from the viewpoint of the umpire.

Sitting on the New York bench the other day, prior to starting a game, Everett Scott, holder of the endurance record for continuous play, remarked to me:

"How many plate decisions do you umpires figure you can miss and still call it a good day?"

The query caused me to smile. Scott smiled as he put it to me.

"That's rather personal," I answered, "but one of our umpires figures that it is 12 either way."

"What does he mean by that either way stuff?" asked Scott.

I then proceeded to explain that during the course of a game 12 pitches ruled balls were so close they might have been called strikes. Perhaps such a ruling would have been more accurate. Likewise, 12 pitches ruled strikes might be considered balls by the team at bat.

Scott, who has a keen sense of humor, listened intently to my explanation of the 12 either way stuff and then replied:

"That makes 24 it's possible to have kicked and still call it a good day. I am pretty sure I know the name of that umpire."

"How so?" I asked.

"Because he usually insists on taking his full quota," was the reply.

ITALIAN CYCLIST WINS FRENCH CLASSIC

PARIS, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Notwithstanding the rival attractions of Olympic swimming, tennis and gymnastics, 25,000 Parisians today assembled in the Parc Des Princes stadium to see the end of the classic cycle race around France. Thousands also watched the passage of the racers through the suburbs. Of the 187 competitors who started from Paris on June 22, 60 finished, having ridden the 3900 miles over mountains, valleys and plains. The winner was the Italian, Bottecchia, whose time was 226 hours, 25 minutes and 2 seconds. He led throughout every stage of the test.

MISS WILLS' DAD WIRES HE'S PROUD OF HER VICTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21.—A telegram of congratulations was sent to Helen Wills by her father, Dr. C. A. Wills of Berkeley, when he received news of her victory over Mlle. Valasto.

"To be in five competitions in her first trip abroad, finalist in one and victor in three is pretty good," was the comment of the father of the new women's Olympic tennis champion.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Thirty-nine out of every hundred girls who go to New York for movies return home beaten and crestfallen. The comedy-drama of a girl who won because she played a venture-some hand is "Bluff," which opened a four-day run at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday. Her experience from an uneventful life to a career crowded with adventure and romance is full of interest. It is a Paramount production, and on the same bill is an F. B. O. Production, "Unlabeled Youth." Earthquakes, floods, typhoons and other acts of Providence can be used in moving pictures to give drama a physical punch that is never seen in the stage. A cyclone is used in this picture, and it provides only one of the many thrills which are to be found before the film fades out. The Merrimack Square is noted for its comfort and its coolness.

On "Time" the Richard Talmadge picture that opens at Lowell's Rialto today, is an exceptionally vivid melodrama of an exciting motives and a steadily well action which carries at times into unvarnished farce. It deals with the uncertain and much-crowded road to success of Harry Willis, a young man of pluck and ambition, as played by Dick Talmadge. Naturally there is a girl, the same one, at the beginning and at the end of the young man's adventures. An unscrupulous dealer in art objects, with eyes to the beautiful young lady, does his utmost to put the skills under the hero's ambitions, and almost succeeds. Because the young man has thrown away as a jinx a strange Chinese idol which the young lady has given him as a token of good luck when he started out to find success, the art dealer sets the boss of Chinatown against him by accusing him of willfully losing the idol which they look upon as sacred. In the unfolding of thrilling events there is

By MARGARET PLUNKETT
Drowning persons often grasp their rescuers around the neck from behind. To break this hold, the rescuer should grasp the drowning one's lower hand and pull down.

Put your other hand on the elbow of his lower arm and push up. Duck your head under this arm.

Thus you will be freed from his grasp. Continue pulling down on the hand, twisting it until the person has turned his back. At this position you will be in command of him.

COBB MAY SMASH STRING RECORD

DETROIT, July 21.—(By Associated Press)—Ty Cobb, the Detroit manager, has accumulated more individual records than any player who has performed in the major leagues and is still at it. During 15 years in the American League Cobb carved his name as one of the immortals of baseball and when he surpassed Hans Wagner's record of having batted .300 or better for 17 consecutive seasons (Cobb's mark now is 15) little more was expected of the Georgia peach.

The wear and tear of 19 campaigns in the major leagues is supposed to slow up a player beyond the point of record-breaking ability; in fact, the majority of players disappear from the big leagues long before that time. With all the laurels he has won and making new statistical records in every game this season, Cobb is on his way to another mark that has been on the books for several years—the consecutive years in which a player has made 200 or more hits in a season.

a capture of the girl by the Chinamen and a sensational rescue in their den where the hero fights single handed against the entire long. And, there are other thrilling adventures for the hero before he reaches the coveted goal of success; such as an uneasy experience with an insane doctor who, but for a sensational escape, would have used the young man as a subject for the transfer of a gorilla's brain to a human being.

The Virginia Outcast, with Marie Day and Jack Perrin, a Century comedy and the second round of the new "Fighting Blood" series are the other pictures on the bill as well as a Fox News.

COMMODORE BALLROOM

There will be check dancing tonight at the Commodore ballroom with Minnie Doyle's orchestra furnishing the music. The admission is 10 cents.

For the past several weeks Tuesday and Thursday evenings have been busy nights at the Commodore ballroom and large crowds have been in attendance. The reason, perhaps in one sense of the word has been the attraction, and the attraction is "Mae" Hallett and his celebrated orchestra.

"Mae" himself is well worth seeing and in directing the orchestra he is working every minute. Harmony and perfect tempo are two features which Hallett insists on and the dance music is always of the highest order. Check dancing will be in order with the small admission of 10 cents being charged.

Wednesday will be "Old Times" night with plenty of old dance favorites included in the program. Minnie Doyle's troupe will furnish music for dancing. Admission is 10 cents.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 1

When the crew of the sailing vessel "Betsy Chaire" realized that their ship was not damaged by its crash into an iceberg, they clamored out of the lifeboats and rushed to the railing. Jack Daw, who had joined the ship as cabin boy, helped his dog, Flip, out of a boat and joined the sailors.

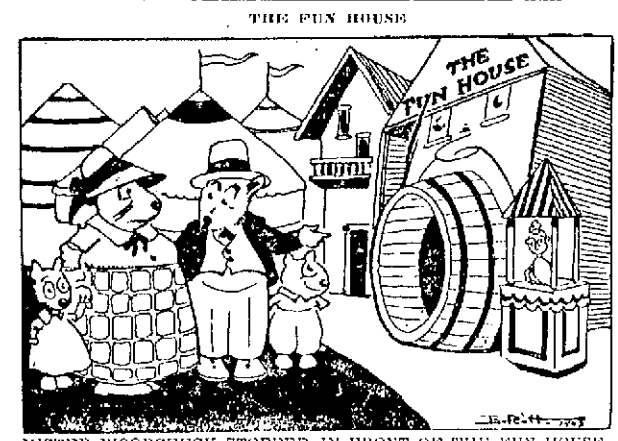

"It looks like we are stuck fast," shouted the captain, as he leaned far over the bow of the boat and gazed down upon the great mass of ice. Then he gave orders to lower a rope ladder so that some of the men could climb down and see just how far the ship had forced its way into the iceberg.

Jack heard the order and he grabbed up a rope ladder that lay by the main mast and hauled it to two of the crew. They fastened one end of the ladder to the railing and then let the other end dangle down off the boat. "Who will be the first one to go down on the ice?" asked the captain. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

One of the most interesting places in Happy Go Lucky Park, where Nancy and Nick were helping Mister Zip, the fairman, was the fun house. You went in by crawling through a barrel when you got in the middle of it, it began to spin around like a hoop, upsetting you and rolling you over and over like a dice in a dice box.

When finally you got inside there was a sign which said "The Puzzle Patch." It looked as easy as pie when you went in. But it wasn't so easy, as the fly found out when he got caught in the spider web. For the passages twisted and turned this way and that and you always met yourself coming back. You were lucky if you got out in half an hour.

And then there were the funny mirrors that made you fat or made you lean or made you lumpy or bowed-legged or even turned you upside down.

Now the fat, dignified Mrs. Woodchuck said that never, never, never would she go to Happy Go Lucky Park again after Nick took her picture and got Mrs. Bunney's ears in it by mistake.

But one day Mister Woodchuck and the children coaxed and coaxed her until she said finally, "All right, I'll go then. But remember—no nonsense."

Mister Woodchuck stopped in front of the fun house. "This looks pretty good. Let's go in," he said.

"Looks silly," said Mrs. Woodchuck in a restrained voice. "But I'm in for it now. Go on if you want to."

So with the whoops of delight the little Woodchuck boys and fat Mr. Woodchuck went in and got rolled around in the barrel and thought it was fun.

"I'll do nothing of the sort," said Mrs. Woodchuck when they coaxed her to come along.

"There's another door," said Nancy. "Go in that way."

And the first thing you know wasn't Mrs. Woodchuck lost in "The Puzzle Patch."

And got out she couldn't. She

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully represents Louise Coulombe of Lowell in said County of Middlesex, the guardian of the person and estate of Raymond Leo Coulombe of Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, and she is interested in the estate of said Raymond Leo Coulombe that by a decree of said Court, dated the twenty-eighth day of September, A.D. 1923, Mary J. Flint Reynolds of Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, was appointed guardian of the person and estate of said Raymond Leo Coulombe and letters of appointment were issued to her.

That the said guardian has mismanaged and misappropriated the funds of the ward by mingling the same with her own funds in such a way as to cause great confusion; that the guardian has without justification become very hostile to your petitioner and is causing her to go into debt in order to keep her out of the ward's money; that although she has sufficient funds on hand the said guardian has refused to pay any of the bills of the ward and is evidently unsuitable for the discharge of said trust.

Therefore your petitioner prays that said Mary J. Flint Reynolds may be removed from her said office and trust. Dated this twenty-third day of June, A.D. 1924.

CARPENTERS AND JOINERS

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Alleged Drunken Autoists
Arrested in Chelmsford
Deny "Soft" Impeachment
Fellow Who Took Brother-
in-Law's Auto Arraigned
Today—Other Cases

Joseph Denault of Austin street, in district court this morning, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with operating an automobile in Chelmsford yesterday while he was under the influence of liquor, while his companion, Warren B. Ashton of Hall street, entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness. Both were continued, under bonds, until July 28.

Denault and Ashton were arrested by Officer James Gookin in the suburb after the machine which Denault is alleged to have been driving, crashed into an electric car in North Chelmsford, near the center. Following the collision, Denault and Ashton were treated for minor injuries, after which they were brought to Lowell and booked on the charges named above.

Took Brother-in-Law's Auto
Charles Apostolakis was fined $20 for operating an automobile without a license, and $20 for operating without a certificate of registration. He was arrested in Bridge street, near Third, shortly after midnight last night when Officer Patrick Leavitt commandeered a machine in the square and pursued him that far before apprehending him. Officer Leavitt's alibi was that the fact that Lambrose E. Lazarakis of High Street, a brother-in-law of Apostolakis, had previously reported to headquarters that his coupe had been appropriated. From the description given, Officer Leavitt recognized the car Apostolakis was driving as the missing machine, and promptly followed him as far as Third street. In court this morning, defendant admitted that he never had a license or registration to operate.

Operating While Drunk
George C. Swanson of Watertown paid a fine of $25 for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Saturday night by Officers Edward Hayes and Francis O'Loughlin as he was proceeding down Merrimack street in a zigzag course. At Palmer street he was accosted by the officers and booked for driving while drunk. Three companions, Frederick C. Union, Mack MacPhee and Alexander MacPhee were arrested for drunkenness. Their cases were placed on file today.

Fined $15 For Larceny
Thomas J. Dalton, charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a motorometer valued at $15, was fined $15 on the latter count, while the drunkenness complaint was filed. Wilfrid Dupont, owner of the machine from which the motorometer was taken, stated his car was parked in Allen street last night when the theft was committed. Dalton excused himself on the ground that he was drunk and said that he didn't remember running the necessary for the car. A fine of $20 was imposed on John Tsafiras when he was adjudged guilty of operating a motor vehicle after his license had been revoked. The case dated back several months.

A group of Boston young men, on an complaint charging them with disturbing the peace in Billerica, were allowed to go after their cases had been placed on file. When arrested more than a month ago they gave their names as follows: James J. Neary, Fred J. Neary, William J. King, William J. King, Robert Booth, McMillen, James E. Murphy, Michael J. Lavallee, William J. Cameron, and Roland McDonald.

Patrolman Arthur Dewett testified that James McCormack abused his wife while in a drunken condition and made her life miserable by his general misconduct. Judge Pickman found McCormack guilty of drunkenness and imposed a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction with the proviso that he contribute $5 weekly to his wife's support.

James P. Fitzgerald, drunkenness, was sentenced to two months in the house of correction.

A suspended sentence of one month in the house of correction was imposed on John Corrigan for drunkenness.

Joseph Willette was found guilty of illegally selling liquor and was fined $100.

Firmin Dupre, maintaining a liquor nuisance, was continued to August 1. Mary Goby, illegal sale, was allowed to enter a plea of poverty, and the case was placed on file.

John Hallowood, operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued to August 8.

An old case of threatening, preferred against Albert Gendreau, was put over to next Friday.

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN WOODS

It is believed that positive identification of the body of a man said to be James P. Stamos of Suffolk street, this city, will be established when John Michas, a close friend of Stamos, returns from Salem, whither he went this morning following the report that the body of an alleged suicide, answering the description of Stamos, had been found in the woods near that town yesterday.

The discovery of the dead body was made by a group of children playing in the vicinity yesterday morning. A revolver was found by his side, while in his clothing were cards bearing the names of James P. Stamos and John H. Lazarakis of Lowell. With these clues to work on, the Salem police notified Lowell, and police officers here were instructed to investigate.

Satisfied that the dead man was not Lazarakis, who absconded with a large amount of his countrymen's money some time ago, the investigation then centered about Stamos. It was finally learned from Michas that Stamos left Lowell on the morning of July 3 to look for work out of town. When he did not return for several days, it was thought that he had gone to the home of friends in Suncook, N. H. He has no relatives in this country.

Lowell Batterymen Have Many Visitors
of Salem made up the remainder of the national guard units now in camp. Episcopal services were held yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock in the regimental area by Capt. Wells M. Paige of Braintree, who also held a general non-sectarian service at 2:30 p. m. The Catholics attended the regular camp mass in the chapel back of the C.M.T.C. area.

Batterymen and the rest of the field outfits in the 102nd artillery which arrived in camp Saturday noon in three special trains, one of which went through Lowell, have solved the horse problem which had vexed both it and the 101st field artillery, which checked out of Devens Saturday. Each outfit had its own guns, caissons, harnesses and other equipment, but each had only half the requisite number of horses. The two regiments pooled their supply of four-legged friends.

The 101st drove its batteries down to the national area, where it unharnessed and left the horses picketed. As the 102nd came in, it harnessed up its own guns and drove the horses back to camp for another two weeks of hard labor. The 102nd took over the same barracks that the 101st used.

The 51st artillery brigade headquarters will remain to spend one week with the Lowell batteries and the other units in the 102nd field artillery regiment.

Batterymen started stiff training this morning, with a lot of work scheduled ahead. First call was at 6:20 a. m., reveille at 6:30, and first call for drill at 6:40. After breakfast there was drill until noon—four solid hours of it. This afternoon the men were busy from 2 o'clock until 5. This will be the regulation program throughout the 15-day encampment, except that some nights there will be study periods in addition to the day's work.

Reserve Officers in Camp
Reserve officers from all over New England arrived in camp yesterday for their annual 15-days' encampment. Those who came belong to the 34th division, from Massachusetts; the 9th, from Maine; Vermont and New Hampshire; and the 76th, from Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Lowell and neighboring towns sent several recruits in the 34th division to the encampment. Among those reporting for duty yesterday were: Lieut. Col. Charles A. Randle of Billerica, attached to headquarters; Major James J. Powers of Lowell, attached to the 34th infantry; First Lieut. John H. Hogan, attached to the 37th infantry.

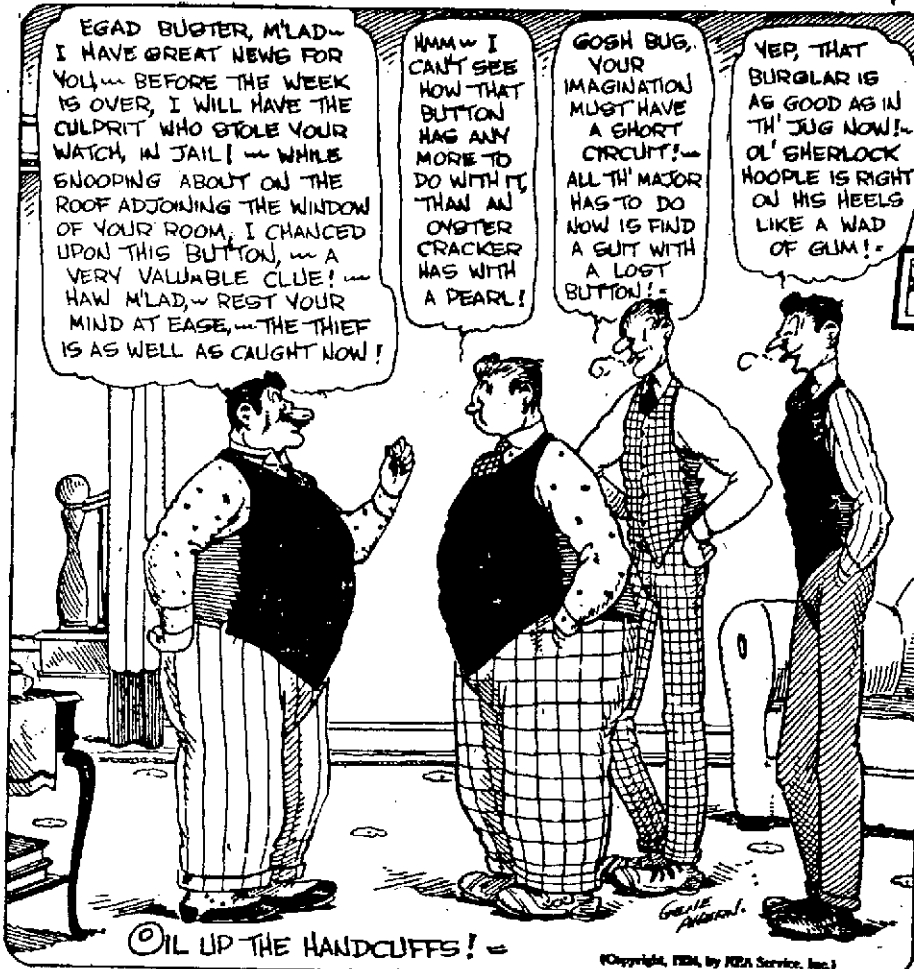

The daily schedule for the reservists will begin at 6:15 a. m. with calisthenics and the programs call for tactical exercises, work on the rifle and pistol, lectures on military history and field combat work of various sorts. Regular army troops from the 5th and 13th infantry will be used in certain of the exercises and officers from the regulars will serve as instructors.

Barracks in the base hospital area are providing sleeping quarters for the reserve officers at present. Later, the "C.M.T.C." will move in to take their places. The field officers are enjoying the luxury of the individual rooms which have been assigned to them.

The Sun was informed this morning by First Army corps headquarters, U.S.A., Boston harbor, that 27 Lowell boys have been enrolled to take up the citizens' military training programs that are to start at Camp Devens on August 2. The entire month will be taken up in this work. Army headquarters are pleased with Lowell's showing in the campaign to secure its quota.

SWIMMING CLASSES AT LOCAL PLAYGROUNDS

A feature of the playground work being conducted on 14 local playgrounds this summer, in the opinion of Superintendent of Parks John W. Kernan, are the swimming classes at the South Common pool.

Six classes in swimming are conducted at the pool daily by instructor Leo Wholley, and the daily registration varies from several hundred to nearly a thousand, depending a great deal upon weather conditions.

The South Common pool is ideal for swimming instruction for the little tots, varying in depth from six inches at one end to ten feet at the other. The classes are from 9 to 11:15 a. m. and from 2 to 4:30 p. m., and during this period, on a warm day, the pool is filled with youngsters mastering the art of keeping themselves afloat. Similar classes were conducted last year by Mr. Wholley and were very successful, several hundred boys and girls learning to swim.

This year's classes bid fair to outnumber last year's, and Mr. Kernan estimates that at least 600 children will have been taught to swim before the playground season is brought to its conclusion in August.

Knowledge of swimming, said Mr. Kernan, this morning, is very necessary in a city such as Lowell where the element districts are lined with deep canals and rivers. In the heat of summer these waterways offer a solution to perspiring youth and many unable to swim are drowned when they play about the water in an attempt to cool off.

The playgrounds, he continued, keep many of the children away from the danger, and hundreds of boys and girls who would not attend the playgrounds were it not for the opportunity to play in the South common pool, attend and learn how to care for themselves in the water.

RANDOLPH BLAZE IS THREATENING

Three Fire Companies From Brockton Give Aid in Stiff Blaze

Aged Woman Rescued From Flames—Phone Girls Stick at Their Posts

RANDOLPH, July 21.—Fire of unknown origin at 11:45 o'clock this morning in the Camello block, Main street, four story wooden structure, did $50,000 damage. Mrs. George Granger and six children were rescued from the third floor by the Randolph fire department, assisted by Charles Germalase of Quincy, Walter Farrell, Elmer Caughan and Daniel P. McCarthy. Ladderman John Hendrickson of Laddard No. 3, Brockton, on his day off, was passing through the town. He rushed into the house and handed the Granger children out of the window to volunteers below on a small extension ladder.

Three pieces of apparatus from Brockton responded. The telephone exchange adjoining caught afire several times. The operators stuck to their post, sending out calls for aid. Mrs. Mary Farley, 38, was removed from an adjoining building, which caught fire several times. The burned building is the property of Mrs. Erma Camello. Ladderman Leonard Duncanson of Brockton was overcome by illuminating gas and taken to the Brockton hospital.

TAKE ACTION ON DEATH OF BROTHER MEMBER

A special meeting of the executive board of local 28 of the railway men's union was held this morning in the union hall in the Grosvenor building to take action upon the death of John Costello, a retired carman and member of the local. It was voted to drape the charter for 30 days and members of the union were instructed to wear mourning bows for like period. It was also voted to send a delegation to the funeral.

Rhode Island Executive Sends Communication to Gov. Cox on Senators' Arrest

PROVIDENCE, July 21.—Governor William S. Flynn today sent to Governor Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts a communication understood to be a protest against the arrest by Massachusetts constabulary Saturday night of a group of Rhode Island officials.

"I am forwarding to Governor Cox of Massachusetts a communication which is self-explanatory," Governor Flynn said. "This communication relates to the outrageous action of the state police of Massachusetts, who, with the knowledge of the identity of certain Rhode Island officials engaged in the investigation of phases of a revolting crime which involved the placing of a bromine gas bomb in the Rhode Island senate, nevertheless arrested these Rhode Island officials, and caused them to be placed under bail as suspicious persons."
